MASSING STRENGTH TO MEET POSSIBLE INVASION ATTEMPT

New Zealand, United States and Australian Forces Join to Repel Any Move of Japanese to Invade Nation—Enemy Loses Many Ships—Blamey Says This Year Will Tell

MELBOURNE, March 28 (AP).—New Zealand troops and flyers joined Australian and United States troops massing to repel any Japanese invasion attempt, and their commander, General Sir Thomas Blamey, declared today that "the next year will decide whether Australia will live or die as a nation."

Allied bombers struck against Koepang in Dutch Timor, 300 miles off the northern port of Darwin and set a Japanese ship afire.

The enemy, using ever-weakening bomber formations, attacked Port Moresby in Southern New Guinea for the twenty-first time, but did little damage. Two marauding planes were downed there yesterday and an Allied craft was lost.

ENEMY LOSES HEAVILY

The Sydney correspondent of The London Star, quoting "authoritative sources," said United States submarines preying on the long-tenuous Japanese Pacific supply lines had sunk five destroyers, an aircraft carrier and about thirty transports and merchant ships in the "past two or three weeks." The report added that five cruisers, another aircraft carrier and thirty more transports and supply vessels were damaged "around Australia."

A full Netherlands Indies division, armed and eager to fight, was reported by the correspondent to have arrived in Brisbane.

THE TIMES, London

News and Comment on International Events selected from The Times daily and published in The Daily Colonist by special arrangement with The Vancouver Daily Province.

(Copyright, 1942, by Southam Co.)

LONDON, March 28 (By Cable).—Japanese invaders are still held at Toungoo, Burma, where Chinese garrisons are holding out gallantly under severe bombardment. Parties of the enemy have cut the road to the north and the Chinese defenders are greatly handicapped for lack of airplanes. As Japanese know this they are attempting to cripple British air force before beginning large scale offensive.

Though considerable Chinese forces are now fighting side by side with the British in Burma, says The Times' Mandalay correspondent, this does not give ground for complacency. The Chinese cannot hold out indefinitely under the present terrific air bombardment. The position in Burma is as grave as ever and more men and far more aircraft are required before it can be regarded as favorable.

General Alexander, who has been in Chungking visiting Chiang Kai-Shek, says that he is greatly impressed by the fitness and discipline of Chinese troops.

Port Moresby, in New Guinea, has now had its twentieth air raid. Australian fighters are in action against the raiders with good results. Australian bombers continue to attack Japanese occupied Timor, including Kuhang. Part of the Commonwealth Middle East Army is back in Australia, says the Canberra Times' correspondent, with General Blamey as its commander-in-chief. He will be authorized to make sweeping changes in organization and personnel of the higher command.

The return of these overseas units is one of best kept secrets of the war. Preparations were made immediately the Japanese assailed Pearl Harbor. Now Australia has a large and well trained army on its own soil, capable of offering a sharp resistance. "We have a rough time ahead of us," says General Blamey, "but I believe the whole people realize it is now total war."

* * *

In Libya, where the Australians fought so well the Allied position was strong and the offensive will be started there against the Axis as soon as possible. The Germans had lost an immense amount of stores and equipment and a large number of men.

Continual raiding is going on in the Western Desert, says The Times' Cairo correspondent. Rommel's army lost one-half of its strength during the last campaign and his new troops are by no means equal to their predecessors. Even though convoy's slip through the British Navy's guard on the Libyan Coast, building up the new German fighting corps in North Africa has been slow and costly business. The transport problem remains acute. Rommel, adds The Times' correspondent, must make a move before long unless Britain as twice before, forestall him.

* * *

Everywhere the thaw has begun on the Eastern Front, says The Times' Stockholm correspondent, thus slowing down operations generally. Berlin spokesmen are telling the old story of Russians worn out and reserves exhausted, but there is no question now that Winter defeats have damped German's confidence in invincibility of their army.

JAPANESE FAIL TO REACH FORT

Enemy Loses Bomber in Attack on Manila Bay—Others Flee

WASHINGTON, March 28 (AP).—A new jolt to Japanese bombers trying to batter the Manila Bay forts in the Philippines was reported today by the War Department, which said Corregidor's anti-aircraft gunners shot down one raider and forced others to drop their bombs into the bay.

Lieutenant-General Jonathan M. Wainwright's troops meanwhile struck two counter-blows at enemy forces, who apparently continued to push their preparations for a renewed offensive.

On the Bataan Peninsula, where Japanese patrols were reported to be particularly active, an American-Filipino patrol carried out a night raid described as successful, while artillery inflicted heavy casualties in silencing an enemy battery and blasted troop and motor truck concentrations.

OUTPOST RAIDED

More than 500 miles to the south, defending patrols pushed to within a kilometer (about five-eighths of a mile) of the occupied city of Zamboanga on the Island of Mindanao, and, without sustaining casualties, "successfully raided" an outpost.

For the fourth successive day on the recently-renewed aerial onslaught on Corregidor and the adjacent string of island fortifications which bar Japanese use of Manila Bay, Corregidor was under almost continuous bombardment Friday afternoon. The foe was reported, however, to have been less successful than in other raids this week, in which seven enemy planes were definitely downed and others damaged.

SIX PERSONS DIE IN ARMS FACTORY

BRIDGEPORT, Conn., March 28 (AP).—Six persons were missing, presumably killed, after an explosion and fire that demolished today a small brick building of the sprawling Remington Arms Company plant, one of the nation's biggest munitions centres.

A company official reported tonight, seven and a half hours after the explosion, that no bodies had as yet been recovered from the wrecked building, but added that a careful check had failed to locate any of the six missing workers, three women and three men, either at their homes or in hospitals.

Gas Masks for Canada Ordered

OTTAWA, March 28.—Another evidence of the realization of the serious danger of enemy attack on Canada is the placing within the last few days of an order for the manufacture of two million gas masks. The contract was placed with an Ontario firm with orders to rush production.

KILLED IN TACOMA SMASH

TACOMA, March 28 (AP).—One woman was killed and two persons injured in a three-car traffic crash at East 30th and D Streets tonight. Mrs. Ethel Waters, fifty-seven-year-old widow, was killed.

Watches Hardening Tactics

The King watches with great interest the cliff-scaling demonstration by men of his army during a recent inspection visit to the South of England, where the British army is now being trained in the new form of battle and hardening courses now adopted throughout the army to fit all ranks for the initiative when the time to attack arrives.

British Position In Burma Better; Lines Reforming

Resistance by Chinese Improves Situation Around Toungoo—Allied Fronts in Prome Area Facing Danger of Japanese Thrust—Fierce Fighting Reported and Casualties of Enemy Heavy

NEW DELHI, India, March 28 (AP).—The British defending the Central Burma oil fields effected a straightening of their lines today in the Prome area on their right flank and reported that the situation on their left, about Toungoo, had improved greatly as the result of stoic resistance by the Chinese.

The British manoeuvre about Prome, involving a slight withdrawal caused by earlier Japanese advances on the Allied left, was effected without a major contact with the Japanese—only "large parties of mixed Burmans, Japanese and local freebooters" were reported active in the area. But the Allied lines in that sector had stretched approximately forty miles south of a line through Toungoo and were endangered by the possibility of a sudden westward thrust.

The British lines were said to be still well in front of Prome, protecting the Yenangyuang oil fields to the north.

THIRTEEN NAZI PLANES BAGGED

Furious Fighting Rages Over Channel Area — R.A.F. Loses Five Aircraft

LONDON, March 28 (AP).—Squadrons of Royal Air Force fighters ranged over the Channel area from Le Havre to Dunkerque today, and the Air Ministry News Service reported that some of the most furious air fighting in months took place, thirteen German planes being destroyed.

One R.A.F. squadron alone saw thirty German planes, and a group of Spitfires shot down ten of them, it was reported. Squadron Leader Brendon (Paddy) Finucane, Irish ace leading the Scottish Auxiliary Squadron, shot down two planes, bringing his total score to twenty-nine.

The British lost five planes in the day's fighting, a communique said.

HEAVY ANTI-AIRCRAFT FIRE

The Germans raised a heavy screen of anti-aircraft fire, and the British planes operated at between 20,000 and 30,000 feet.

A member of Finucane's squadron said: "There appeared to be Huns all over the sky. It was an amazing party. I've never seen anything like it."

British bombers attacked airdromes in the occupied Low Countries last night, but bad weather prevented large-scale raids over enemy territory, the Air Ministry said. The ministry said mines were laid at several points during the night. Four planes were reported missing.

FIVE PERSONS FEARED DROWNED AT TORONTO

TORONTO, March 28 (CP).—Five persons were feared drowned when a metal boat disappeared in the bay between Toronto and Centre Island last night.

Those missing are Mr. and Mrs. John Deacon, William Powers, R. J. Parkinson and William Bistow. The party left Centre Island for a trip to Toronto and has not been heard from since.

Extra Delivery For Retail Shops

TORONTO, March 28 (CP).—James Stewart, administrator of services, Wartime Prices and Trade Board, announced here today that special permission has been granted for all retailers to make one additional delivery Saturday, April 4.

The permission applies only to April 4, and has been granted because the previous day, Good Friday, is a public holiday. Ordinary deliveries are limited to one a day.

Nazis Counter-Attack But Lose Heavily All Along Russian Front

German Armies Switch Tactics to Attempt to Shake Soviet Grip—Enemy Forces Around Murmansk Pounded—Hitler Aide in Turkey

MOSCOW, March 28 (AP).—Driven back upon the defence of fortified villages and cities by the crushing waves of the Soviet Winter offensive, the German armies have switched tactics to open-field fighting in savage counter-attacks aimed at shaking off the Russians' iron grip and gaining them fresh footholds for a Spring push.

That was the picture of the military situation as it was drawn tonight both by an authoritative foreign military source who has been with the Red Army at the front, and by the army newspaper Red Star.

Each conceded that the Nazis, on all sectors of the huge front, are counter-attacking furiously at tremendous cost in this all-or-nothing effort to regain the initiative. But both agreed that the initiative still was firmly held by the Russians and that the present German Army can-

BRITISH FORCES RAID GERMAN-OCCUPIED FRENCH COAST TO BLAST ST. NAZAIRE BASE

Commandos, Airmen and Sailors Take Part in Modern Version of Zeebrugge — Destroyer Laden With Explosives Blown Up in Harbor—Lock Gates Believed Wrecked—Some Losses

Harbor a Refuge for Nazi Submarines Preying on Atlantic Shipping Lanes

LONDON, March 28 (AP).—Britain's combined force of commandos, airmen and sailors making their most spectacular raid yet upon the German-occupied French coast, converted a former United States destroyer into a giant time bomb, laden with five tons of explosives and blasted the main dock gate of the big German submarine base at St. Nazaire early today.

A special communique tonight said "there is every hope" that through this daring assault, the gate of the large dock at St. Nazaire, the largest on the Atlantic Coast, was destroyed.

Special service troops were landed and carried out pre-arranged demolitions in the dockyard before the 1,090-ton destroyer Campbeltown, formerly the U.S.S. Buchanan, was sent nosing toward the main gate with her giant load of explosives.

"This ex-American destroyer had had her bows specially stiffened and filled with five tons of high explosive," the communique said. "A delayed action fuse had been fitted to give our forces sufficient time to complete other demolition work and withdraw before the main explosion took place."

The King Calls His Peoples To Prayer Today

LONDON, March 28 (AP).—The following is the text of an address broadcast tonight by The King on the eve of an Empire day of prayer:

Since I last spoke to you, we have been through very hard and anxious times. We have shared the anguish of the peoples who, having long enjoyed peace and prosperity under our flag, are now subjected to all the horrors of war.

Our hearts go out to our comrades in Australia, New Zealand, India and Burma in their hour of trial. We know that they are facing it with the same unflinching spirit as those at home in the Mother Country.

We shall give them every help in our power, and we are glad to know that strong American forces are already ranged at their side.

In the stress of these tragic events, there have been many searchings of heart. That is a good thing, for adversity can be turned to good account if we use it as a spur to greater effort.

MUST IMPROVE TEAMWORK

A tremendous amount has already been achieved. To underrate the effort we have already put forth would be a great mistake, a great disservice both to ourselves and to our Allies. The country has never been so united and has never worked so hard as it is doing now. That does not mean, however, there is not a great deal more that can be done. We can and must improve our teamwork.

We can and must quicken the pace, for speed is the essence of modern war.

These things are not just matters for those in authority. They depend on each one of us in every walk of life doing his job with all the energy at his command.

I ask you to go to your tasks in the critical months ahead with a new fire, with fresh confidence in yourselves and in one another. We all make mistakes, but let us be certain that we ourselves are doing our utmost before we waste time and energy in finding fault with others.

RESOLUTE AND CHEERFUL

I am completely sure that however steep or stony the path ahead of us may be, we shall continue as always in our history—resolute and cheerful on our way.

There are moments, no doubt, when some of us may not feel as fresh as we were two and one-half years ago when we started at the bottom of the hill. But don't forget that we are also much nearer the top.

As we have climbed, the country's muscles have been braced, its fibres have toughened, its heartbeats are stronger and steadier. As the full abomination of the evil spirit against which we are fighting under every sky and in every climate has become understood by all, our will to endure has hardened.

We know we have undertaken a veritable crusade against the forces of darkness. Were they to prevail, the lights of freedom, tolerance and kindliness would be blotted out for long generations. There can be no peace until the wicked forces that have wrecked the world are cast down and utterly destroyed.

UNDAUNTED AND UNWEARIED

United in close comradeship with our brothers and sisters overseas and with our mighty and valiant Allies, we shall go forward together undaunted and unwearied until our task is accomplished.

To come through the ordeal before us, we need God's help—and for this I have called my peoples to prayer tomorrow. We must dedicate ourselves anew to the service of the just and good cause for which we fight. In our prayers, let us thank Almighty God for bringing us thus far in safety through so many dangers, and let us ask Him to give us that spiritual strength which great causes deserve and with which the conquered survive.

Strong in our faith and resolved to shrink from no effort, no sacrifice, we shall march on to the triumph of right which alone can open to all the promise of a broader and better age.

FIVE SHIPS TORPEDOED

Survivors Landed at Eastern Ports—At Least Twenty-Four Men Lost

By The Associated Press

The survivors of five torpedoed vessels have reached the safety of widely-scattered Atlantic ports, but at least twenty-four of their shipmates are known to be lost and hope is rapidly waning for another group adrift in a lifeboat.

Twenty-two crewmen from an American merchantman who arrived in Norfolk recounted the heroism of their pilot, Able-Seaman Oscar G. Chappell, who burned to death at the helm while he kept his ship headed into the wind so twenty-two others could escape. The sinking occurred off the Atlantic Coast on Thursday.

HIT BY THREE TORPEDOES

Rescued by a ship that dropped a dozen depth charges when it arrived on the scene thirty minutes after the attack, the survivors said eleven shipmates were lost when a submarine pumped three torpedoes into their tanker.

At Savannah twenty-three members of the crew of another tanker said thirteen were missing and be-

CHINESE ORDER ALL-OUT WAR

Government Given Powers to Conscript Manpower and All Material Resources

CHUNGKING, March 28 (AP).—The Chinese executive Yuan announced a National General Mobilization Act today, giving the Government almost unlimited power to conscript the country's manpower and material resources for an all-out effort against the Japanese.

The announcement said the new act was the result of proposals made by Chiang Kai-Shek, "who foresaw the present Pacific war and its effects on China's situation and had planned and prepared to meet them in anticipation of conditions now existing."

HAS WIDE POWERS

The act, consisting of thirty-two articles, empowered the Government to commandeer or seize materials ranging from military weapons, fodder and medical supplies to ships and all other forms of transport, electric power, fuel, engineering apparatus and communications equipment.

It also empowers the Government to order for delivery all materials vital to the prosecution of the war or the reconstruction of the nation. Under it the Government may control prices, commandeer labor services, prohibit strikes, lockouts and picketing, determine the use of capital, regulate imports and exports and to take over and use any land or building.

AERIAL SIGNS NOW REMOVED

Air Force Headquarters Says Directional Markers Are Obliterated

Special to The Colonist

OTTAWA, March 28.—Royal Canadian Air Force Headquarters said tonight that all aerial direction signs that might be of any assistance to invading enemy planes have been obliterated in Canada. The American Civil Aeronautics Administration on Friday issued orders for the wiping out of all aerial direction markers, "as soon as possible" within 150 miles of the Pacific, Atlantic and Gulf of St. Lawrence coastlines.

"The most complete safeguards have been taken regarding the Pacific Coast," Air Force headquarters here declared.

"At the outbreak of the war, the only commercial development of any consequence was from Montreal to the Pacific Coast. When the Trans-Canada Air Line was extended to Halifax we saw to it that no aerial direction signs that might help the enemy on the Atlantic or St. Lawrence coasts were installed; so that the situation is air-tight." It was pointed out by headquarters that the development of commercial flying in this country could not be compared with that of the United States, where huge sky-line directional markers were installed by several commercial companies.

ATTENTION ON PLEBISCITE

With Parliament adjourned for the Easter recess, attention is being focussed to a considerable degree on the plebiscite to be taken on April 27 to release the Government from its pledge not to conscript manpower for overseas services.

Reports in circulation in Montreal that voting day would be postponed are strongly denied by chief electoral officer, Jules Castonguay.

"There is not the slightest chance of postponing the voting, from April 27," he declared tonight. "The proclamation fixing April 27 as the date has been both issued and circulated. The machinery for taking the vote is rapidly going into full swing and will be in complete readiness in ample time."

Members of all political parties have promised to urge their constituents during the Easter vacation to give an affirmative answer on the plebiscite, and Prime Minister King is to deliver a radio broadcast.

Norwegians Deprived of Citizenship

OSLO (From German Broadcasts), March 28 (AP).—Fifty prominent Norwegians, including former Premier Johnan Nygaardsvold, were deprived of their citizenship by a decision today of the Norwegian Ministry of Interior. Their property was confiscated by the German-controlled administration of Vidkun Quisling.

Others affected included Carl Hambro, former president of the Storting (Parliament) and Dr. Halvdan Koht, former Foreign Minister.

TWO MINISTERS LEAVE FOR B.C.

Ralston and Power Expected to Arrive on Coast Tomorrow to Inspect Defences

Special to The Colonist

OTTAWA, March 29.—Carrying National Defence Minister J. L. Ralston and Air Minister C. G. Power, two Royal Canadian Air Force planes will leave here this afternoon. Accompanied by several staff officers from Ottawa headquarters, the two ministers will make an extensive survey of British Columbia defences. They are not expected to return to Ottawa for ten days or two weeks.

Colonel Ralston and Mr. Power are expected to arrive in Vancouver tomorrow, Major-General R. O. Alexander, commander-in-chief of the West Coast, and Air Commodore L. F. Stevenson, A.O.C. Western Air Command, will leave here today for Vancouver to meet the ministers. Mr. Ralston and Mr. Power are expected to visit Victoria and Prince Rupert in the course of their tour.

SPECIAL FOR SOLDIERS

BELFAST, March 28 (AP).—Army authorities have ended Belfast's controversy over Sunday movies for British and United States troops, requisitioning one of the city's largest theatres for a variety show tomorrow for soldiers only. The Belfast council twice had refused permission for Sunday shows.

AIR RAID INSURANCE

WASHINGTON, March 28 (AP).—President Roosevelt has signed a bill authorizing a $1,000,000,000 for the War Damage Corporation to provide Federal insurance damage to private property resulting from enemy air raids.

B.C. Airman Is Injured in Plane Crash

TUCSON, Arizona, March 28 (AP).—Officers at Davis Monthan Army Air Field said tonight that Squadron Leader N. E. Lloyd, of Kelowna, B.C., reported earlier today as killed in a plane crash near Lordsburg, N.M., had escaped with burns on his hands.

The plane, a British Beaufort medium two-engine bomber, crashed late yesterday, according to information received at the field here. First reports were that Flt.-Leader P. A. Kimpton, of London, had been killed, but later it was learned he was injured, with two other Royal Air Force flyers.

PRO-AXIS INDIAN REPORTED KILLED

NEW YORK, March 28 (AP).—The Vichy radio said tonight that Subhas Chandra Bose, pro-Axis Indian Nationalist, had been killed in an airplane crash off the Japanese coast, C.B.S. reported.

The Tokio radio said yesterday that a plane bearing eleven persons, including four Indians en route to an "Indian independence" conference in Tokio, was missing, and that all aboard were believed dead, but it made no mention of Bose.

Bose, former mayor of Calcutta, who fled to Axis territory some time ago, broadcast an appeal from Berlin on March 14 to Indians to revolt.

COATS

DRESSY SPORTS CASUAL

REMEMBER: You can't hoard STYLE!

at SCURRAHS

We wouldn't care to say so ourselves but again and again recently ladies have been most insistent in declaring that our display of Coats is the most intriguing in town. Certainly these Scurrah Coats should be seen before making the important decision. Among the Dressier Models are some delightfully fine English Crepes, and other imported novelty Fabrics. Beautiful guaranteed two season lining, self trimming, pin tucking self and quilted embroidery, with and without collars, some with lingerie over collars, of white pique. Straight back and fitted styles. And in the Imported Tweeds the colors this year are quite unusual while there are many of the very soft tweeds that are quite new and very lovely. Yes, at Scurrahs, there is just EVERYTHING in Coats of real distinction yet the price range is surprisingly moderate.

Coming Election in America Providing Little Ammunition

Few Issues Appear in Early Stage of Campaign—Only General Guesses on the Outcome Being Made — Parties Reviewed

WASHINGTON, March 28 (AP).—Stumping time for the first war elections in the United States in twenty-four years approaches with prospective issues in such a fluid state that political leaders are making only very general guesses on the outcome—and these subject to change.

Issues such as labor curbs and conduct of the war blow hot and cold. Everything is in what President Roosevelt might call an "iffey" state. Republicans and Democrats agree that a conspicuous war victory or two for the United States would change things overnight. People would be less apt to find fault.

So, with so much depending on how the war goes by election time, it may be that personalities rather than issues will in large measure be determining factors in most campaigns.

SITUATION COMPLICATED

The situation is so complicated that even Rep. Joseph W. Martin, Jr., of Massachusetts, Republican national chairman, though looking for some Republican gains, is not echoing some of his cohorts' claims that the Republicans will gain control of the House in November. To do so they would have to hold their own and take about fifty seats away from the Democrats.

Neither is the Democratic national chairman, Edward J. Flynn, making any of the customary pre-campaign claims, but a party headquarters official looks for the Democrats to pick up a few more House seats despite the habit of the pendulum swinging away from the party in power in off-year voting.

Minority party officials express no hope of winning control of the Senate. To gain a clear margin there the Republicans would have to hold their nine seats being filled this year and take twenty-one of the twenty-four Democratic places to be voted on, of which nine are in the so-called solid South. The seat of Norris, Nebraska Independent, also becomes vacant.

FIRST STATE PRIMARY

The first state primary will come off in Illinois on April 14, when candidates for one Senate and twenty-six House seats will be chosen. It will be followed by seven other primaries in May, with additional primaries and state conventions coming almost up to election day, November 3.

The elections this year will fill all 435 House seats, thirty-four Senate memberships and the chairs of thirty-three state governors.

Here is the way spokesmen for the two major parties size up the subject of issues at the present time:

Labor: A high authority at Democratic headquarters believes this issue will be smoothed out before long, probably without legislation. If not, he thinks the Labor people themselves will make things pretty hot for those urging labor curbs, with members of both parties feeling the heat, especially in districts where the labor vote holds the balance of power.

ISSUES BALANCED

This authority believes pending issues are more or less balancing themselves, with the rural upsurge for restraints on labor being offset by urban displeasure at farm drives for above-parity prices and evidences of huge profits on some war contracts taking some of the wind out of the anti-labor bellows.

The Republican authority sees the labor question as a "red hot" one right now, but, like his Democratic opponent, thinks it may be a short-lived issue and possibly completely isolated by election time. It all comes back to the conduct of the war which, in his opinion, will be the one great issue.

Prewar voting records; President Roosevelt has raised this question by his assertion that a wartime Administration needs a Congress which will support the Government and has had a record of supporting it, regardless of party.

Unssential spending: Republicans say the people are demanding drastic reductions in Federal spending for non-war activities and are far ahead of Congress on this. The people are reconciled to terrific taxes, but want the money to go for purely war purposes and spent in an efficient manner.

TO EXPROPRIATE HASTINGS PARK

Vancouver Exhibition Head Learns Proceedings Are Planned by Government

VANCOUVER, March 28 (CP). — John Dunsmuir, president of the Vancouver Exhibition Association, said in a statement issued today he had been advised Federal authorities were about to take expropriation proceedings to acquire all the association's installations at Hastings Park, except the golf course, race track and Happyland amusement area.

Mr. Dunsmuir said the information was given him by Mayor J. W. Cornett, who had received a letter from a Vancouver legal firm "stating that in view of the fact Col. Goodwin Gibson, chief real estate adviser from Ottawa, and the British Columbia Security Commission, had been unable to conclude what they termed satisfactory arrangements with the association . . . they propose to take expropriation proceedings."

EXPRESSES SURPRISE

Mr. Dunsmuir said he was "rather surprised" such action was necessary since he had heard nothing from Colonel Gibson or Austin Taylor, commission chairman, since last Wednesday, at which time "they proposed to give the matter consideration and contact us again." His statement outlined negotiations for rental of the buildings, which he valued at more than $1,000,000, and which are being used as a manning centre for Japanese being evacuated from coastal defence zones.

The service will give all parts of the community an opportunity to show appreciation of Mr. Woodsworth's qualities and to acknowledge the contribution which he made to Canadian life.

William Irvine, of Alberta, is expected to address a similar meeting in Vancouver. In common with like services in all parts of Canada, a fund, to be known as the Woodsworth Memorial Fund, will be initiated, monies contributed to be used for social research. Arrangements for the services are being made by the Co-operative Commonwealth Federation.

To Hold Service As Memorial to J. S. Woodsworth

A short memorial service in tribute to the late J. S. Woodsworth will be held in the Chamber of Commerce auditorium at 8:45 o'clock tonight, when J. M. Thomas, a former friend, and Colin Cameron, M.L.A., will speak. Mrs. R. M. McIntosh, Saanich, will sing, and other music will be provided.

Italian Prisoner Is Poor Worker

LONDON (BUP). — Italian prisoners in England have proved themselves valueless as land laborers. They are paid only sixpence an hour, but they do so little work that county agricultural committees have pointed out that their employment is false economy.

Besides being lazy and inefficient, the Italians will make no effort to understand English.

MASSING STRENGTH TO MEET INVADER

Australia in a vain search for a Japanese invasion armada as the continent prepared for whatever might come.

RETURN TO HOMELAND

The New Zealand and Australian expeditionary forces, returning to defend their homeland after two years' campaigning in such places as Tobruk, Crete, the Libyan-Desert, Malaya and Singapore, included contingents of the army, air force and navy. New Zealand pilots were among the first arrivals.

The returning Anzacs consisted of fully seasoned veteran organizations which would not be broken up, General Blamey declared. He expected to confer with General MacArthur over the week-end before disposing the newly-arrived veterans in the swiftly-growing defence organization.

A Queensland sergeant who had battled the Japanese in Malaya said the enemy were easy marks when met on equal terms in the air or on land.

SOME PROMOTIONS

Army Minister Francis Forde announced that the Government would appoint a number of young Australian Imperial Force officers, experienced in modern warfare, to important positions in the land forces.

It was learned authoritatively that an important reshuffle of senior commands was impending. Lieut.-Gen. Sir John Lavarack, who returned to Australia over two years ago, and who has been acting as commander in chief of the Australians pending General Blamey's return, was said to be slated for an important new post.

Blamey, who serves under General Douglas MacArthur, said the Allies must base their strategy on the assumption that the Japanese, who appear now to be concentrating on Burma and in consolidating their conquests in the Dutch East Indies, would try to invade Australia. He predicted an attack on Darwin, which dangles at the end of a long air and road line through the heart of Australia.

"We must see to it that we don't lose Darwin and Port Moresby," he said. He added an appeal for "hundreds and hundreds" of new fighters and bombers.

"With a powerful air force we can keep the Japanese from our shores, and with overwhelming air superiority we can blast all the way back to Tokio," he said.

MUST ASSUME INVASION

AN AUSTRALIAN PORT, March 28 (CP). — General Sir Thomas Blamey, new commander in chief of the Allied land forces in Australia, said today the Allies must base their strategy on the assumption the Japanese will attempt to invade this continent.

"We must work on that assumption just as Britain must ever plan on a Nazi attempt to invade the British Isles," Blamey said in an interview.

"The Japanese probably will attack Darwin and North Queensland in an effort to close both ends of the East Indies and cut off our ready access to sea communications. We must see to it we don't lose Darwin and Port Moresby."

General Blamey said it was highly probable the Japanese would launch a big offensive against India as soon as they could consolidate the positions they already have won.

ACCLAIMS APPOINTMENT

He acclaimed General Douglas MacArthur's appointment as commander of the United Nations' forces in the Southwest Pacific as a bold and sensible step.

"It means that General MacArthur can use all the forces at command," he said. "With things moving as fast as they do in this war it may make all the difference between victory and defeat."

General Blamey said the Australian Imperial Force, organized for duty overseas, would cease to exist as such under the new setup, but declared its traditions and spirit would be carried on.

He emphasized the importance of air power in the Battle for Australia, asserting that "we want hundreds and hundreds of bombers and fighters and air personnel as fast as we can be supplied, and we have no doubts America will see that they get to us."

"With a powerful air force," he added, "we can keep the Japanese from our shores, and with overwhelming air superiority at a later stage we can blast all the way back to Tokio. Until such time as with America's help, we have built up sufficiently strong sea and land forces to follow the bombers through we must rely mainly on air strength."

HAIRDRESSER'S ADVICE BEATS Rheumatic PAIN

For five years Mrs. Wm. Cherkley, 171 Munro St., Toronto, had suffered repeated attacks of rheumatic pain and stiffness in her right shoulder, without finding anything to bring relief. Then, one day, her hairdresser said, "Why don't you take Templeton's T-R-C's?" Mrs. Cherkley acted on the advice—and she discovered what so many Canadian sufferers from rheumatic pain have found—that there is nothing like T-R-C's for fast easing of pain and timbering up of stiff joints. T-R-C's are specially made to fight neuritic, arthritic and rheumatic pain, or lumbago, gout and neuralgia. Ask your druggist, now, for a 50c or $1 box. or

BRITISH FORCES ACROSS CHANNEL

The communique said the sortie was made "not without some casualties" and indicated some of those lost may have been abroad the destroyer.

"The majority of the Cambeltown's crew were evacuated by motor launches," the communique said.

"A signal has been received from the St. Nazaire raiding force, which is returning safely from the raid, saying that H.M.S. Cambeltown rammed the main dock gate at 1:34 this morning, only four minutes late on the programme time.

"The signal states that at 4 a.m. after the force had withdrawn a heavy explosion was heard and seen."

If this sacrifice of the destroyer did what it was intended to do, it wrought havoc in one of the main lairs of Nazi submarines preying upon Allied shipping in the Atlantic and knocked out the only dock on the continental Atlantic Coast capable of accommodating the 35,000-ton German battleship Tirpitz.

TREMENDOUS DAMAGE

Certainly tremendous damage was caused by the explosion of such a quantity of explosives and with the destruction inflicted by the Commandos, the raid appeared a highly profitable one.

The Campbeltown, built in 1919, was obtained by Britain in the deal for fifty United States destroyers in exchange for a lease on Western hemisphere bases.

The latest hit-and-run smash at Nazi coastal bases was patterned after the first great war naval action at Zeebrugge, Belgium, when the British Navy bottled up the Germans there by sinking concrete filled ships in the harbor entrance.

The Commandos admittedly ran into heavy German opposition at St. Nazaire and it apparently was among these tough air and seaborne fighters that the heaviest casualties were inflicted.

The R.A.F. aided the operation by diversionary bombings and Beaufighters of the coastal command covered the return trip.

Before the British gave their side of the picture, the Germans trumpeted to the world that the expedition had met with disaster.

"Wait and see," was Britain's response from officials who explained that no detailed announcement would be issued until their forces were safe home from the hazardous return voyage of 270 miles across the western end of the English Channel and around Brittany Peninsula to the nearest English ports on the Cornish coast.

GERMAN CLAIMS

The Germans' communiques—issued in unusual intensity—said an old American destroyer crammed with explosives which the British intended to blow up in the lock gates was exploded by naval artillery fire before it could be rammed to its goal; that a fleet of thirteen British motor torpedo boats was sunk, the remaining naval units including destroyers routed by naval and anti-aircraft fire, and that those forces which succeeded in getting ashore were routed, annihilated, encircled or captured.

The Germans specifically claimed more than 100 prisoners.

On the other hand, the first, thirty-eight-word British communique stressed that it was "a small raid" and said virtually nothing else. (Moreover, all day long stringent censorship was apparent on the story).

CANADIANS MENTIONED

(Reports originating from Vichy said Canadian parachutists, as well as Commandos and Marines took part in the attack, but senior officers in the Canadian Department of National Defence said they had no such information).

Despite the official attitude, the choice of Brittany for this latest of Commando raids, the second on the French Coast, appeared significant in view of the contention of many "second front" advocates that the British could seize and hold a line across that 100-mile wide peninsula.

A line from St. Nazaire on the South Coast of Brittany to St. Malo on the north would isolate many of Germany's most prized French airports, as well as Brest, the port and shipbuilding centre which served as a hideout for many months for the two battleships Scharnhorst and Gneisenau before they escaped through the channel.

Fingerprinting Of All Children In City Planned

A comprehensive programme to fingerprint all pre-school age and school age children in the city is under consideration following a meeting, Friday afternoon, of H. L. Campbell, municipal schools inspector, and a special committee of the United Organizations Security Council.

While the project, undertaken to facilitate identification of children in the event of confusion in evacuation or air raids, is still in the formative stage, it is expected that plans will be announced soon, J. W. Price, secretary of the Security Council, said last night.

"Our aim is to establish a system of keeping track of the children after raids, evacuations or other extraordinary events," Mr. Price explained. "The setting up of stations for the identification of children is also being considered."

It is planned to preserve fingerprint records in triplicate, Mr. Price said. In each instance one set would be given to the child's parents, another placed in the provincial archives and a third sent to the Mainland for safe keeping.

BRITISH POSITION IN BURMA BETTER

A Chinese communique said that the fighting for Toungoo, 120 miles north of Rangoon, was growing fiercer and that some Japanese troops had infiltrated the southwest corner of the railroad town. Bitter hand-to-hand fighting, in which the Chinese inflicted considerable losses, has been in progress for two days.

The Chinese said that the main Japanese pressure was from the south. The arrival of reforcements for the Chinese troops commanded by United States Lieut.-General Joseph W. Stillwell improved the position of the defenders.

CAPTURE AIRPORT

These forces were encircled Wednesday when Japanese, penetrating the Yoma area, circled behind Toungoo and captured an airport to the north of that defence centre.

The doughty Chinese refused to run, however, wiped out the Japanese airport expedition of about 1,000 men, battled off Japanese reinforcements and at last accounts were still holding on to Toungoo, although the threat to their rear had not been entirely erased.

OLIVET TO CALVARY WILL BE RENDERED BY CHOIRS TONIGHT

Maunder's sacred cantata, "Olivet to Calvary," will be rendered this evening in the Church of Our Lord, Humboldt Street. The principal solos in the work have been assigned to Pierre Timp (baritone) and J. Oakman (tenor). Mrs. J. Floyd and P. Kitley will sing the occasional solos.

The chorus of forty voices will consist of members of the choir of the Church of Our Lord, and the choirs of the Wilkinson Road and the Garden City Churches.

"Olivet to Calvary" recalls simply and reverently the scenes which mark the last few days of the Saviour's life on earth, and some of the reflections suggested thereby.

The work is interspersed with hymns in the singing of which the congregation will join. A limited number of copies of the complete words will be available for use by the congregation.

lieved lost. The survivors left their ship in lifeboats and rafts, also in Atlantic waters near the coast, after two torpedoes smashed amidships. They were picked up the following morning.

Thirty-four survivors from an Allied merchant ship reached an East Canadian port after drifting four and one-half days in their lifeboats before an Allied freighter picked them up. They said still another boatload was missing after the torpedoing in the Western Atlantic.

GREEK CREW SAFE

The entire crew of a Greek freighter reached Miami safely from Nassau after a submarine torpedoed their vessel once and then came to the surface in West Indian waters to shell her with a deck gun. Chief Mate Antonias Falangas said the raider fired a warning shot and gave the crew time to abandon ship before it opened fire six times from the surface.

The torpedoing of a United Nations motor tanker by an Italian submarine was described by thirty-four survivors who reached New York after their three lifeboats were sighted and picked up by a United States destroyer. Seven more crewmen were rescued by a ship bound for Trinidad. None was lost.

Trial of French Leaders Reveals Political Set-Up

At Present Hitler and Former Supreme War Council of France Only Embarrassed by Proceedings at Riom—Unpreparedness of Republic Is Generally Admitted in Charges

Roy P. Porter, who analyzes for The Associated Press the French "war guilt" trial at Riom, was a correspondent in France before the defeat and until recently was stationed in German-occupied Paris.

By ROY P. PORTER
Associated Press Staff Writer

NEW YORK, March 28 (AP).—Hitler and the old French Supreme War Council of as far back as 1934 are about the only ones who could be called "technically embarrassed" so far by the trial at Riom seeking to determine who was responsible for France's defeat by Germany.

The Fuehrer got mixed up in it because his army occupied two-thirds of France and his agents tried—unsuccessfully up to this time—to make the French investigation a political exposure of "who was responsible for starting the war."

The Supreme War Council is involved because the five defendants have adopted the habit of going back to the beginning, in the period of comparative calm in 1934 and 1935, when the military planning and strategy for the war period, which turned out to be 1939 and 1940, was being established.

HITLER'S COMPLAINT

Hitler himself, in his speech on March 15, threw a new spotlight on the trial when he complained that "not a single word of guilt of those responsible for the war is mentioned and nothing but inferior preparation for war is being talked about."

If he had read the original charges published by the Vichy Government on October 16, 1941, he would have known that the trial was not called to assess those "guilty of war" but to determine the persons "responsible for the defeat."

A brief review of the charges against the defendants will show that, I was in Vichy when the indictments were made public last October.

When the charges became known, it was evident that they accused the defendants of bad management, misfeasance or nonfeasance, negligence and carelessness.

PREMIERS CHARGED

The two former premiers, Leon Blum and Edouard Daladier, were charged with negative acts. Blum "failed to give impetus" to arms-production and "failed to recognize the deficient national defence" and he "disorganized production by nationalizing war factories," the indictments said.

Daladier was charged with "defects" of various kinds: national and industrial mobilization, arms production, construction of frontier defences, and organization and moral support for the army. His accusers said he went to war "without sufficient preparation."

Gen. Maurice Gustave Gamelin, the active commander of the Allied land forces, was charged with having brought his own French Army to a "state of material and moral inferiority, badly prepared, badly instructed and badly armed, unfit for war."

FRANCE NOT READY

Pierre Jacomet, Secretary-General of the National Defence Ministry, was accused of "guilty negligence in military and industrial preparation," and "weakness" in dealing with "undisciplined personnel" as well as having "failed to disclose, by silences and inexactitudes," that France was not ready to fight.

Former Air Minister Guy La-Chambre, who returned from the United States to answer the indictments against him, was charged merely with "lack of energy and truthfulness," and the French grand jury recommended that he should not be classified as "one of the responsible principals."

His predecessor at the Air Ministry, Pierre Cot, was in the United States and could be tried only after extradition; but the charges against him were also those of misfeasance or non-feasance.

Blum seems to have been the first of the five men on trial to have recognized its political possibilities.

TRIAL POLITICAL

He said and has repeated continually that the trial is political. He went so far as to tell the court it was unconstitutional, which it denied, because it was not elected under the French constitution.

With these basic facts in review, it is relatively simple to analyze the present position of the defendants. All, except Gamelin, who maintains for the most part a stubborn silence, have acknowledged in varying degrees the faults of their administrations—but only by sharing the responsibility with their predecessors.

And of all the predecessors cited so far, the Supreme War Council of 1934 and 1935 has come in for the most blame.

These were the years when Hitler was reorganizing his army, building up his air force by secret training and evading the military clauses of the Versailles Peace Treaty.

From the first statement of generals, who began to talk last week, it appears that the French Army was short of morale, that its equipment was poor or missing altogether. Also, that the nation's fortifications, including the Maginot Line, were designed to stop an enemy of an earlier era but not the German motorized army of 1939 and 1940.

The story of what and how it occurred will continue to unfold until the last of the expected 300 witnesses have testified.

COUNTER-ATTACK BUT LOSE HEAVILY

not compare in power to the divisions which blasted their way into Russia last Summer.

CONTINUE OFFENSIVE

The midnight Russian communique said that these German counter-attacks in some sectors were repulsed with heavy losses for the Germans and that Russian troops continued their offensive fighting, occupying several inhabited localities. Eight German planes were reported destroyed Friday.

While the foreign military observer expressed the utmost confidence in the current Soviet campaign with its constant threat of outflanking and encircling the Germans, he declared that it would be essential for the Allies to open a second front against the Nazis in order to enable the Red Army to deliver a knockout blow this year.

FINNS WIPED OUT

MOSCOW, March 28 (AP).—The Moscow radio, quoting Stockholm dispatches, said today that an entire company of 200 Finnish ski volunteers, attached to the SS Nordland German Regiment on the Northern Front, was annihilated when the Germans withdrew and failed to inform the Finns.

Among the killed, the dispatch said was Paavo Vierto, "world champion in ski jumping."

(Available records in New York do not include the name of Vierto. These records in the last two years are incomplete, however.)

NAZI CHIEF IN GREECE

MOSCOW, March 28 (AP).—A Tass dispatch from Istanbul said today that there were reports in military circles in Turkey that Field Marshal General Walther von Brauchistch, removed by Adolf Hitler from command of the German Army, had arrived in Greece on a special mission connected with concentration of Nazi parachutists at island bases in the Eastern Mediterranean.

SINK NAZI DESTROYER

NEW YORK, March 28 (AP).—The B.B.C. said today that Russian dive bombers had sunk one German destroyer in the Northern Arctic and damaged another. The broadcast was recorded by C.B.S.

B.B.C., reporting further details of the recent Russian landing at the German rear on the Murmansk Front, said that Russian fighting planes shot down thirteen German dive bombers out of the waves of such craft which attempted to thwart the Russian move.

The remainder of the dive bombers were said to have been driven off without inflicting any losses among the Russians' Stormovik and Hurricane fighter force.

HITTING IN MURMANSK

MOSCOW, March 28 (AP).—Pressure by Russian landing parties from Arctic beach heads behind the left invasion flank, combined with Soviet sea and air attacks, was reported today to be making the position of the German Alpine Army before Murmansk extremely difficult.

Lieut.-General Eduard Dietl, fifty-one-year-old Bavarian whom Hitler decorated for his defence of Narvik in 1940, was identified by the army newspaper Red Star as the enemy commander.

"Now Dietl has been forced on the defensive and his Austrian (mountaineer troops) are being steadily pressed," it said.

The surprise landing of a Russian sea-borne force on Axis-occupied soil of the Murmansk Coast, designed both to clear Allied supply lines and imperil the invaders from the rear, was announced last night. The operation, however, apparently was initiated some time ago, with Red ships and planes in full support.

A Red Star dispatch said that one German offensive had been blocked after a month-long struggle. (Murmansk, which lies 175 miles north of the Arctic Circle, is Russia's major Barents Sea port and communications centre. Its population in 1926 was 8,777.)

FORMER HOSPITAL MATRON PERISHES

Miss Jean Cameron Smith Burned To Death in Fire in Ontario Farmhouse

POWASSAN, Ont., March 28 (CP).—A fire which destroyed a farm house in Christian Valley, six miles from here, today claimed the life of Jean Cameron Smith, seventy-three, well-known hospital matron and missionary, and inflicted extensive burns upon a brother and sister living in the home with her. Miss Smith was trapped in an upstairs bedroom.

The sister, Helen, escaped through intense smoke and heat, after being roused from sleep by her brother, Alfred, who discovered the blaze while eating breakfast in the kitchen of the farm home.

LONDON, March 28 (CP).—Sir Stafford Cripps will broadcast Sunday at 8 a.m., P.D.T., it was announced here today.

HIS MAJESTY'S BROADCAST

His Majesty's appeal to the peoples of the Empire for team work in winning the War and for the giving of loyal support to that Empire's great allies should find responsive echoes everywhere he was heard in yesterday's broadcast, and there must have been many millions of people who listened. He described the war as a veritable crusade against the forces of darkness. For that reason he made it clear that these must be overcome with God's help. He asked the peoples of the Empire to dedicate themselves to the purposes of this crusade and to seek God's co-operation in the task so that after victory there may be the promise of a broader and a better age. Perhaps the reverses that the United Nations have suffered and are suffering are because of their neglect to invoke the aid of God and to bring to their purposes a nearer approximation to the purposes of the Almighty. The King has given the people a reminder, as he has done so often before, that when the powers of evil are being combatted there is the supreme necessity of relying on God to reinforce the arms of those opposing them. That is vital, if out of evil there is to come forth good.

FACING LIFE AND DEATH

Malta has suffered over 1,500 air raids; it is the most bombed spot on the face of the earth. It may well be said of that island, as Troilus said of Helen, wife to Sparta's king; "She is a theme of honor and renown, a spur to valiant and magnanimous deeds." There is no greater epic in the War than the defence of Malta, the unconquerable will of its inhabitants, men and women, and of those of the three services who have fought, not one, but hundreds of fights against attackers from the sky with a "spirit and courage never to submit or yield, and what is else not to be overcome."

The story of Malta may never be known in its entirety until this War has ended. Now it is only the fact, unheralded in words, that tells of the heroic fortitude of the defenders. Perhaps, however, there is something of an echo that comes from the Mediterranean fortress to the noble words of His Majesty's broadcast yesterday. He was speaking of the Day of Prayer and asking his peoples to commend themselves to the mercies of the Everlasting in these times of trouble and misfortune. It is therein that lies the ability to face life. In Malta the acting Governor and Commander-in-Chief is Lieutenant-General Sir W. G. S. Dobbie, K.C.B., C.M.G., D.S.O. A recent issue of The Shantyman, published in Toronto, recalls a message which General Dobbie sent to The Pilgrim, a South African publication, a message which shows the manner of man he is. It is a memorable one in these times and will bear reptition in conjunction with the appeal to the Christian mind made yesterday by the King. General Dobbie wrote:

"I gladly give my testimony to the saving and keeping power of God in Christ. I came to know Him as my Savior forty-seven years ago, and all through my military service to the present day He has been my Savior and my Lord. Although I have often and often been unfaithful to Him, yet He has never been unfaithful to me, nor has He let me down. I have always been sensible of the fact that my sins, which were forgiven me when I first accepted Him as my Savior, were blotted out once for all, and that in spite of my failures I have become a new creature in Christ Jesus. That realization has given me a profound peace which none of the circumstances of army life in peace or war has been able to disturb. I should also like to testify that to serve God and to follow Him is a very real and practical thing in the Army. The help that he gives is also real and practical, as I have proved times without number. I have made it a habit to bring all my problems to Him, both great and small, both professional and private, and I can testify that the help He gives is certain and convincing. I have known Him now for forty-seven years, and I could not face life without Him. They little know what they are missing—it is no small thing to know that all the past has been forgiven, that help from the hands of Almighty God is available for the present, and that the whole future for eternity is assured. I am not presumptuous when I say I know that, because it has all been given to me by His grace—apart from my own deserts. I commend such a Savior to all."

ARE THE UNITED NATIONS AWAKE?

There is a lesson, for Canada as well as for the United States, in an article by Mr. James B. Reston appearing in The New York Times Magazine. He believes that to some extent there has been an intellectual failure in realizing what this War means. He particularly alludes to the catalogue of catastrophe which has marked the struggle since Japan participated. He claims that through this the United States has learned "a terrible lesson" and he asks if, even now, his countrymen have cleared their minds of "old ideas, habits, and prejudices, whether as a nation we are awake to the grim realities of the war."

Mr. Reston doubts this. He says his country is five years behind Germany in converting industrial plants to military purposes and that "in the year 1941 we turned out twenty billion dollars worth of peace-time goods which could have been converted to war work." He doubts if Washington is acting as if, as Washington says, "the country is facing its greatest crisis," and claims that the atmosphere of the American capital "is not yet one of grim relentless war work." He deals with the illusion—that the nation will fight its best on a diet of optimistic news—by saying that this "denies the first psychological lesson of the war; that the Anglo-Saxon peoples will not make the supreme sacrifices necessary until they understand that their position is not only bad but desperate." In pointing the moral of this he writes;

"The people of London worked their hardest when the going was toughest. Before the blitz, when they were being fed on optimistic drivel, they coasted outrageously; but when bombs fell, and they understood at last that preservation of their freedom was more than a phrase, they worked like mad. The history of our own country has proved that our energy and our sacrifices have risen with our understanding of the nation's peril. Without truth there is no understanding; and without understanding there is likely to be no victory."

There is another illusion to which the writer draws attention; that is that the Axis can be beaten while the United States goes on working on a forty-hour week. That, he says, is answered by the military position today. "It is answered also," he says' "by the fact that the British, who are very jealous of their trade union traditions, are working between fifty-five and sixty hours a week. And it is answered most conclusively of all by the fact that the Germans are working between sixty and seventy hours." Then Mr. Reston asks;

"Will money win the war, or will it take munitions? Have we time for petty squabbling, personal ambitions or party considerations? Must we confuse our own people in order to confuse the enemy? Can we spot our enemies a five-year start and beat them on their home grounds if we work forty hours to their sixty? We cannot win the war until we clear our minds of these illusions. When we do, all the military power of the Axis, all the advantages they have gained so far, will not deter us from the goals President Roosevelt has proclaimed."

IDLE AIRPLANES

The Toronto Globe and Mail believes that there should be a Minister of Aircraft Production in Canada and it advances some cogent reasons. It says that the Empire Air Training plan is now hampered by lack of planning, "which is nothing short of a national disgrace." It goes on to say: "this newspaper is reliably informed that one-third of the training planes in Canada are presently in disuse, if not derelicts, on account of the failure of responsible officials in Ottawa to order spare parts and replacements. It is said there is a "lack of co-ordination between the Royal Canadian Air Force and the Department of Munitions and Supply. The Federal Aircraft Company—a Dominion Government monstrosity which was loaded on the back of the airplane industry—has been a problem child since its inception. The evidence is slow deliveries of component parts to the manufacturers of aircraft."

The newspaper goes on to say that manufacturers who depend on the Federal Aircraft Company "are producing only half the machines they could turn out if the necessary parts were available when needed." The Globe and Mail follows this with; "We have a Minister of Fisheries with a full-fledged department of the Government costing $2,000,000 a year to market a fishery production valued at $40,000,000 a year. Why not a Ministry of Aircraft Production to insure that a Commonwealth Air Training Plan, which is costing a billion dollars, will have sufficient machines, spare parts and replacements worthy of the gallant young men who are spilling their blood to save civilization . . . We need a Beaverbrook in Canada, a man with the driving force and vision to mobilize the machines and replacements that will make the Commonwealth Air Training Plan one of the greatest single agencies ensuring defeat of the enemy."

TREACHEROUS WARFARE

What Mr. E. B. White, writing in Harpers, says of the great disadvantage of the United States in relation to the Axis Powers applies equally to the British. In both countries the notion prevails that "any sort of sporting contest must be governed by a set of rules." To give Mr. White's analogies—"the football can't be kicked off until the whistle has blown"; "the prize-fighter can't be socked until he has come out of his corner"; "a tennis player doesn't serve until his opponent is ready." So, Mr. White writes, "it was quite to be expected that America grew purple and pink with rage and fury when the Japanese struck us without warning." The writer uses these illustrations to show that, "who sups with the devil must use a long spoon." On the other hand, it is those who observe the rules most closely who win the battle of life itself, and even the poison gas of the Second Battle of Ypres did not bring the Germans victory. There is one illustration in the differences between the forces now locked in deadly struggle that Mr. White omitted to give. It is the remark made by a German to an Englishman on the eve of the Great War to the effect that—"We will never be gentlemen, and you will always be fools." Nevertheless it was those who insisted on observing the rules of war who finally won the struggle of 1914-1918.

FROM CANADIAN BOAT SONG

Listen to me, as when ye heard our father
Sing long ago the song of other shores—
Listen to me, and then in chorus gather
All your deep voices as ye pull your oars;
Fair these broad meads—these hoary woods are grand;
But we are exiles from our fathers' land.

From the lone shieling of the misty island
Mountains divide us, and the waste of seas—
Yet still the blood is strong, the heart is Highland,
And we in dreams behold the Hebrides;
Fair these broad meads—these hoary woods are grand;
But we are exiles from our fathers' land.

When the bold kindred, in the time long vanish'd
Conquered the soil and fortified the keep,
No seer foretold the children would be banish'd
That a degenerate lord might boast his sheep;
Fair these broad meads—these hoary woods are grand;
But we are exiles from our fathers' land.

Come, foreign rage—let Discord burst in slaughter!
O then for clansmen true, and stern claymore—
The hearts that would have given their blood like water,
Beat heavily beyond the Atlantic roar;
Fair these broad meads—these hoary woods are grand;
But we are exiles from our fathers' land.

—Author Unknown.

FROM THE FLAG GOES BY

Hats off!
Along the street there comes
A blare of bugles, a ruffle of drums,
A flash of color beneath the sky:
Hats off!
The flag is passing by!

Sea-fights and land-fights, grim and great,
Fought to make and to save the State:
Weary marches and sinking ships;
Cheers of victory on dying lips;

Days of plenty and years of peace;
March of a strong land's swift increase;
Equal justice, right and law,
Stately honor and reverend awe;

Sign of a nation, great and strong
To ward her people from foreign wrong:
Pride and glory and honor,—all
Live in the colors to stand or fall.

—Henry Holcomb Bennett.

Wise men ne'er sit and wail their woes,
But presently prevent the ways to wail.
—Shakespeare: "King Richard II."

THE WEEK

Western Front (899-905 days)—It was a week of reconnaissance on the Western Front; with noticeably increased air activity, some sharp exchanges at sea, and a determined attempt to block the German submarine base at St. Nazaire. Ground-[illegible] Force on Thursday and Friday carried out massed raids with hundreds of planes against Southern and Southwestern Germany, and the occupied coast. Essen and Cologne seemed to be the main targets; with Ghent, Ostend, Boulogne, Le Trait, Le Havre and St. Nazaire subsidiary objectives. Fifteen planes were lost in the attacks. The luftwaffe replied on Dover, and five other towns on the east and south coasts of Great Britain; showing more enterprise than it had displayed previously this year. Channel fighter clashes were frequent towards the end of the week, the R.A.F. winning the decision in two sharp actions and some smaller affairs. Submarine warfare continued at a slightly lesser peak in the Atlantic. The crews of four stricken vessels made port in small boats, after being torpedoed at sea. A United States patrol plane found a German submarine on top of the water, and landed two bombs on her turret and two more alongside. A British Sunderland flying boat rescued fifty-six survivors from another vessel; an amazing feat of airmanship at sea. Two British trawlers and an unnamed United States cutter went down in unreported actions. A sharp raid by a joint sea-air-land force on St. Nazaire was in progress as the period closed. From enemy accounts it developed that a British Commando unit had landed to attack shore installations; while naval groups had made a determined attempt to block the submarine port with block-ships and explosives. The official account was awaited. Prime Minister Churchill spoke during the week, finding some silver at the edges of the gathering clouds. His Majesty the King, in a Commonwealth broadcast, made an eloquent appeal for a resolute and united effort in the coming year; announcing today as a day of prayer throughout the British Empire.

Mediterranean Front—Both sea and air action quickened in the central sea; with two decisive victories for British ships, and intensive air reconnaissance over the whole zone, from Northern Italy to Greece and Crete. In the first sea action, two British submarines ran into an Italian convoy in the Strait of Messina; gunned two Italian submarines under the water; and by shell fire and torpedo sank two supply vessels, five schooners, and a motor vessel, while under a cross fire from land batteries. Both vessels won clear, unharmed. The second exchange developed into one of the most brilliant naval actions of the war. A small British naval force of five light and anti-aircraft cruisers with some destroyers, guarding four merchant ships in convoy for Malta, drove off repeated attacks by a force of 150 Axis bombers, losing one merchantman. Later the convoy off the southern point of Italy ran into an Italian force composed of a Littorio class battleship (15-inch), two heavy and four light cruisers, with a destroyer flotilla. The British squadron attacked, laying down a smoke-screen; and slipping in and out of it to pepper the larger vessels with every calibre of gun that could be brought to bear. Six-inch shells once set the battleship afire; torpedo hits were rammed in on a heavy cruiser; and the Italian force broke off the engagement—as one correspondent put it—"puzzled and whipped." The convoy went through. Rear Admiral Phillip Vian, already decorated for the Altmark incident, when he commanded H.M.S. Cossack, was knighted for the action, which he led. Elsewhere in the central sea, the luftwaffe lost fifty planes in a week-long attack upon Malta, including thirty in a single day. The R.A.F. reconnoitred the north shore from Milan and Turin to Rhodes; with quick raids on many points in Sicily, Greece and Crete. There was scattered patrol action in the Libyan desert; with increase in air patrols reported, and British raids on Bengasi, Derna, Martuba and as far west as Tripoli. The rumor pot boiled, but no decisive step was recorded on the Axis side.

In the Middle East there was positional fighting in Burma, but no immediate change in the total picture. Chinese forces on the British north flank lost Toungoo airdrome, and recaptured it in a dashing attack, which drove the Japanese from their positions, in the face of heavy air counters. There was noticeable increase in air power; and a third Japanese division had landed. Japanese air raids sought out Allied airdromes. Allied forces held their lines on the Prome and Pyu fronts; and replied by air on Japanese concentrations at Chiengmai. Early in the week, the Japanese landed on the Andaman Islands, some distance off the Burmese coast in the Bay of Bengal. The group, containing numberless small islets, had previously been abandoned as being incapable of defence. The encroachment, none the less, was watched; as were Japanese ship concentrations reported gathering in the Gulf of Martaban and at Rangoon. In India itself, Sir Stafford Cripps, British emissary, opened conversations with Hindu and Moslem leaders, and also received Mohandas Gandhi; reporting progress in the opening of important discussions. Chinese commanders told of two exploratory raids into Siam, from Northern Burma; and also of lively action on the oldest front of the war, China; in both of which considerable Japanese forces were engaged, and kept occupied. From enemy sources came an unconfirmed report of a British squadron at sea. No Allied comment was offered.

* * *

In the Pacific (106-112 days)—There was a marked lull in fresh action, though fighting continued on many fronts, from the Philippines to New Guinea. Early raids on Darwin, Wyndham, and Broome on the Australian mainland, dwindled to lessening attacks on Port Moresby, on the south coast of New Guinea. United Nations planes replied hard on Rabaul, Lae, Salamaua, and Kupang; picking up some ships in port and a number of enemy planes during the week. Japanese troops in the Markham Valley were reported stopped for the present at a point twenty-seven mils from Lae. Australian and United States aircraft were in integrated action; one result of which was the dwindling raids on Port Moresby, bombed twenty-one times and each time with smaller forces. In the last raid sixteen bombs were dropped, and they went wide of their mark. By contrast, the Japanese stepped up their raids on Luzon, sending sixty machines over Corregidor Fort and the Bataan defences, in repeated attacks which cost them some planes. Patrol skirmishes were reported both at Bataan, and in the south on Mindanao. Fighting, though little reported, was known to be in progress on Java, Sumatra and other Netherlands possessions, where hill forces are still holding out. Australian reports credited United States submarines with a mounting bag of Japanese naval and supply craft, covering action in the last two weeks. One summary said five Japanese destroyers, an aircraft tender, and thirty transport or supply ships had been sunk in the Southwestern Pacific. Washington conceded the loss of the gunboat Asheville in earlier operations off Java; and confirmed British reports of Japanese atrocities at Hongkong.

* * *

On the Eastern Front (274-280 days)—Poor weather probably accounted for the slower tempo on the Eastern Front during the week. There was repeated reference to alternate thawing and freezing, which slowed action in the field. In spite of this, local action continued in five main zones, with thrust and counter-thrust both in the north and the south. Russian forces pressed at Orel and Kharkov; there was action at Poltava, and guerrilla raids near Bryansk. German efforts included a new counter in the southwest, headed by tanks and planes, which were stopped; a determined effort to break the ring at Staraya Russa, and armed feelers at several points in the long line. The Russians changed pressure on the northern front, and launched a fresh attack in the Leningrad zone, aimed at raising its siege before the Spring thaw comes. In the far north, Russian troops were landed by sea in rear of the German position facing Murmansk. In the Crimea, German sources conceded renewed fighting on the Kerch coast, where tanks and artillery were involved. Hard German counters were reported at Kalinin and Kharkov, but little actual ground appeared to have changed hands. There was marked increase in air activity on both sides. It began to look a little as if Spring action would be launched from the present positions, when the ground dries. In three of the five zones the Russians were dominant, and their morale everywhere remained high. Two hundred and eighty days have given the German army little but the assurance of further hard fighting on the Eastern Front. In the world conflict, as a whole, it was a week mainly of pause.

THREE SENTENCED

LONDON, March 28 (CP).—Three Netherlanders have been sentenced in Holland for spreading reports picked up from United Nations broadcasts and for making anti-German utterances, it was learned here today, according to Aneta, Netherlands News Agency.

FIFTY YEARS AGO TODAY

(From The Daily Colonist of March 29, 1892)

A Troublesome Tar — On Yates Street, yesterday evening, a sailor belonging to the Thermopylae was creating a disturbance at the Vancouver Hotel, and Officer Kenny proceeded to reason with him. The tar, who was "three sheets in the wind," showed fight, and the officer called upon a few citizens, who were spectators of the disturbance, to help him to arrest the fellow. Two volunteered, but the tar was more than a match for them. A third, a fourth, and a fifth gave a hand, and at last the prisoner was overcome. He kicked and struck out in every direction, and ultimately had to be carried to the lock-up, a couple of score of jeering youngsters forming a procession.

Strawberries—But, Oh! so Dear! — Once more the delicious strawberry appears, but in small quantity, in the windows of a few restaurants in the city. The berries were brought by the San Francisco steamer, yesterday, and are the first seen in the city this season.

A Noble Brute—For several days past the body of the big elk, shot at King's Camp, has been in the workshop at the museum, undergoing the process of preparing and mounting. This having been completed, the monarch of the forest was yesterday moved into the museum, where he will remain an object of awe to peaceful visitors to the provincial treasure room.

The Observation Car

By G.B.

An ancient automobile owned by the city juvenile officer has been driven 177,000 miles and still appears good for a few thousand more. "Providing the tires hold out and I can manage to get enough gasoline, this old bus will outlast some of the [illegible] on the road," the officer proudly told us when we saw him chugging to work on Saturday afternoon . . . From a cannery company advertisement: "Some brands will not be available in their familiar tin containers. However if there should be a period when a few are missing do not blame your grocer and do not blame your Government. Pin the full responsibility on Hitler, Hirohito and Benito, and be glad that less tin for us means more bullets and shells for guns" . . . Last Saturday night the famous old "End House" in Esquimalt ceased to exist. An institution founded in days of the Royal Navy in these waters is no more. The road will be blocked off on Wednesday to make way for Royal Canadian Navy expansion . . . Files of The Colonist in March, 1892, showed there were no fires in the city during that month of pioneer days fifty years ago . . . Life quotes Melville Jacoby, correspondent in the Philippines: "Every Filipino escaping from Manila tells us that it is a common sight to see one of his countrymen tied for three days and three nights to a lamp post on the streets and fed only bread and water. This is the punishment for those who misbehave; walk behind a Japanese sentry, cross forbidden areas in the city or touch the ropes marking forbidden zones which are difficult to recognize because warning signs are in Japanese. Americans in concentration camps are no longer allowed to receive food from friendly Filipinos, but are now tossed meals like dogs by Japanese sentries" . . . That, and more, is what we can expect from the little yellow devils if they ever successfully set foot in British Columbia.

IN TOTAL WAR

Sir,—A news item in today's paper under the caption, "Gets eight days for lack of certificate," makes one wonder if the police authorities realize we are at war with Japan. Are they afraid of our aliens? This sort of thing goes on all the time, so no wonder our enemies fear no reprisals for what they do to our nationals where they have conquered.

(MRS.) D. B. FAIRWEATHER.

SOCIAL CREDIT

Sir, — In nearly every newspaper there is a regular feature portraying events of the past, so many years ago to the day. The excerpts are culled from the old issues usually with a view to showing comparison in thought between periods. The effect on the reader is an amusing reflection of progress that after all we are far more enlightened in this day and age.

And so readers of the future are likely to ruminate over two recent news items which we considered worthy of front page notice.

In the first, a prominent banker was able to assure us that in war money was just as vital as munitions. And while the peculiar qualifications of the banker to judge of such matters may be overlooked, there is little likelihood that the lack of realism of our generation will escape notice. The future reader will remind himself that this was an age when the views of the institutionalist overruled those of the individual; that the institutions had to be preserved even if the individual had to sacrifice himself in order to conform to its laws. He will have evidence that presidents of institutions reminded us that the financial burden of the war must be borne again by generations to come and that therefore we must economize by having fewer governments and even go so far as to deprive men out of work of their franchise. Thus only by centralizing power could the institution be made secure—a type of deductive reasoning, he will argue, was based on the false premise that the individual existed only to serve the institution or the state.

The second item was the satisfactory announcement that a large sum of paper money had been saved from Singapore and transported in boxes in a ship which had to run a naval blockade.

The realist will wonder whether we ever realised that if the ship had been wrecked on an island the crew would have found greater use for the contents had they been bully beef, or that possibly the Australians at that time had a greater need for boxes filled with munitions instead of bits of paper.

However, he will remember that we still labored under the delusion that money was wealth and had therefore adopted a policy of money first, men second, where the determining factor was one of cost so that our first thought was always "Where is the money to come from?"

"Are decisions of economic mobilization," says The Economist (London), "made on strictly real, physical, non-financial grounds alone? Clearly not. There are still too many cases of policies that would be desirable for their results being held up for reasons that are fundamentally financial."

And as The Times (London) reminds us: "Mr. Roosevelt's suggestion to cut out the financial nonsense and get down to realities would transform the whole question of aid to Britain. Criticism is to be expected from those who dread any departure from conventional ways and who cannot think, even in wartime, in anything but financial terms. On the other hand, there will be those who will hail it as the first gleam of economic sanity in a world bedevilled by finance. We should think less in terms of money and more in terms of goods and services."

In any but a money economy a physical need is met by four essentials—labor, material, skill and machinery. We now have the need and fortunately all the essentials. It is highly dangerous then to gear our war production to money.

If our Government has the power to issue bonds, it also has the power to create money in lieu of bonds without having to borrow this at interest from private institutions. A regular system of issue and withdrawal could be arranged as was done in England during the last war.

Those institutionalists who bolster the present system are becoming suspect. They would have us believe that only their money is sound and that further war production is conditional upon our willingness and ability to accept greater burdens of taxation to provide the interest charged by them for monetizing our credit.

Their meaningless figures are becoming ludicrous and the hour is overdue for a closer approach to realism in which men and their needs will be put first and money will be relegated to its proper role as a ticket, bearing no debt or interest, but deriving value from its general acceptability for goods and services, for which it would at all times be kept in exact supply.

The benefits of stable money are obvious in a topsy-turvy economy such as ours and it is high time we cut out what Keynes aptly called "the humbug of finance."

A. H. JUKES,
Major.

REVERTED PROPERTY

Sir,—"Consistency thou art a jewel," especially when applied to municipal management, and especially to taxation, and particularly to a raw political outrage perpetrated by the City Council of Victoria deliberately.

Briefly a lot and building numbered 542, 544, 546 Herald Street, formerly owned by the undersigned, when assessed for $22,000, has just been sold by the City, who has confiscated it for non payment of taxes, for less than $6,000. It was offered to me on August 9, 1937, for $6,000, subject to 5 per cent discount for cash, by Land Commissioner Kirkpatrick Crockett. Is there any consistency in such transactions.

A few days ago indubitable evidence was furnished the City that the doctrine of single tax on land and the exemption of 35 per cent of the value of improvements is a positive delusion coming from two most able administrators thousands of miles apart, one in Pasadena, California, and the other in Calgary, Alberta.

This city's actual experience with reverted property for years is sufficient evidence.

Surely war troubles are enough without freak political interference of any kind.

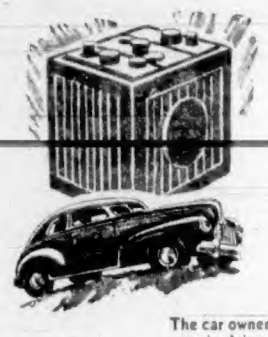
LABOR CONFERENCE

The recent proposal of the Federal Minister of Labor to the shipyards is the chief topic scheduled for consideration at the meeting of the Vancouver Island Joint Labor Conference this evening at 7 o'clock at 1110 Broad Street.

Canada DRIVES to VICTORY!



Victory is not a thing Canada can take for granted any longer. Victory must be won by everyone. Are you doing your part by keeping your car in good condition in case Canada may need it?

"Ounce of prevention" has a vital meaning to us now!

YOUR CAR IS A Personal and Community ASSET. Let's KEEP IT Up to VICTORY STANDARD!

The car owner who has his repairing done now is doing both himself and Canada a favor. Watch your car, and keep it moving!

BATTERIES are a big item in our fight for Victory. That's why car owners are being asked to take care of the one they have. If your battery shows signs of weakness, don't make the mistake of waiting. Have it recharged and inspected by someone who knows how—have it inspected by Plimley's.

MEDICAL VIEWS QUOTED ON ANIMAL EXPERIMENTS:

"Vivisection from a medical standpoint is wrong, and the waste of millions of dollars spent on the torture of helpless animals, not to mention the injury and deaths produced by the use of products developed from these aimless experiments, is both inhuman and disgraceful."—(M.D. letter, November 24, 1941.)

"Vivisection has nothing to do with the prevention of disease and the cure of sickness."—(M.D. letter, November 17, 1941.)

"I am definitely opposed to useless vivisection of all animals . . . torture is not an aid in fighting human diseases, but is a definite handicap."—(Dr. A. letter, November 17, 1941.)

"I am, and so long as I am sane, will be absolutely opposed to vivisection . . . I have never met a vivisectionist who claimed to be a benefactor of humanity and could give proof of it."—(M.D. letter, December 5, 1941.)

"I am opposed to vivisection because it is a useless and cruel procedure, as well as a blot on an otherwise noble profession. There is plenty of evidence that it has been a factor in multiplying degenerative and mental diseases and increasing the number of hospitals and sanitoria."—(M.D. letter, November 17, 1941.)

"I have been opposed to it for many years."—(M.D. letter, November 25, 1941.)

"It is presumption to believe that future historians will classify any people as having attained a very high grade of culture which condones the inhuman, unfeeling and cruel practice of vivisection on dumb animals. I am utterly and irrevocably opposed to vivisection in any and all forms."—(M.D. letter, November 21, 1941.)

Federal Agreement on Tax Transfer Signed And Returned to B.C.

With Final Refunds, One Per Cent Tax Goes Into Discard Along With Provincial Collection of Income Levy—Northern Roads Given Approval

BRITISH Columbia has now entered fully into agreement with the Dominion on the transfer of taxation under the income levy and other heads to Ottawa for the duration of the war, Premier John Hart announced yesterday. The formal agreement, ratified by the Twentieth Legislature, has been signed at Ottawa and was returned yesterday to the Provincial Government in completed form.

Under its terms, the Province is retaining $12,048,367 in income taxes collected last year, but will remit $5,000,000 additional collected since March 31 last to Ottawa. A general accounting is under way now to adjust balances under the new scheme. One immediate effect is that sums approximating $1,000,000 in collections for six months last year under the 1 per cent levy will be returned to provincial taxpayers. Cheques were going out yesterday.

NEW SYSTEM WORKING

Discussing the pact, Premier Hart said:

"The agreement has been signed at Ottawa, and we have received it back. We are all ready to go ahead on that basis. We are rendering statements to the Dominion in an accounting showing what is coming to us, and what is due to the Dominion. As from March 31 last year we will receive no more income taxes for the duration of the war. Instead, the Province will receive the fixed sum of $12,048,367, as agreed, together with other arrangements under the contract. A sum of $5,000,000 collected by us since March 31 is being remitted to Ottawa. Refunds under the 1 per cent levy are going out now."

KEEPING LOCOMOTIVES

Premier Hart touches on other matters briefly. The Pacific Great Eastern Railway was not included in the oil conversion order; and there was no thought at present of converting locomotives on the system to coal-burning, he said. The Squamish Board of Trade has asked for flood protection at the mouth of the Squamish River, and that matter is being considered. On the other hand, major road or rail extension in the area is believed to be too costly at this time.

Touching on possible links with the projected Alaska Highway, Premier Hart said the Province had handed over all data on the choice of routes through the Peace River area, to the Dominion; together with field surveys and all relevant material. Work is going ahead under Federal direction on the Prince Rupert-Terrace route through the north-central part of the province, as recently announced at Ottawa. This road is considered of strategic importance in British Columbia, and the Provincial Department of Public Works is co-operating to its full extent.

Avoiding expression of opinion on the manpower plebiscite at present, Premier Hart intimated that the Cabinet may at a later date make a formal appeal to the public in that regard. The actual vote does not take place until April 27.

Orders for the release of the tax refunds under the now-abandoned 1 per cent levy were sent out by the Treasury yesterday, upon receipt of the signed agreement from Ottawa, the Premier stated.

SCIENCE TESTS ROCKET SHELLS

Cannon of Future Will Send Projectiles Long Distances By Own Power

NEW YORK, March 28 (AP). — Science has fashioned its first cannon of the future, to shoot shells which fly by their own power with jet propulsion.

This first weapon is small, a light metal tube three inches in diameter, four feet long. The shells are six inches long, a little more than two inches thick.

It is entirely experimental, but it is a start on a principle recognized as sound by aviation engineers. The gun was designed by Edward F. Chandler, New York engineer, and is described in Astronautics, journal of the American Rocket Society.

SCHEMES TESTED

The purpose is to experiment with the jets, of burning powder, gasoline, liquid oxygen and other power sources, to drive the shell. Jets which drive an eighteen-foot-long projectile seven miles have been developed by Dr. Robert Goddard in New Mexico. Lesser jets have been tested in the rocket society.

None of these were military. The new experiment seeks to adapt the information to explosive shells. Power and distance already are available. But problems of accuracy in flight, cheapness of construction, and types of fuel have yet to be solved.

Chandler says the experiments indicate that the direction can be fixed in the gun so that the fire-winged shell flight will take it to the target.

Advantages of the guns include very light weight.

Obituary

CHAN—Funeral service for John Hong Chan will be held Monday at 2 p.m. from Sands Mortuary, Rev. M. F. Leung officiating. Interment will be made in Royal Oak Burial Park.

HEALE—Rev. John Blewett conducted the funeral services of Richard Heale in McCall Bros. Funeral Chapel yesterday afternoon. During the services the hymn, "Rock of Ages," was sung. Mrs. Randall was in attendance representing the Army and Navy Ladies' Auxiliary. The following were pallbearers: A. Lane, R. H. Tillyer, W. G. Barnes and G. A. Anderson. Interment took place in the family plot in Ross Bay Cemetery.

UEBERALL—The death occurred yesterday at 617 Douglas Street of Mrs. Agatha Ueberall, at the age of seventy-five years. She was born in Alsace-Lorraine, France, and had been a resident of this city for the past three years, formerly residing with her daughter, Mrs. Jonn Girgulis, 1212 Princess Avenue. The deceased is survived by Mrs. Girgulis; a son, Eugene Ueberall, at the family residence; two sons and three daughters. The remains are resting at Sands Mortuary, Ltd., where on Tuesday evening at 8 o'clock prayers will be said. On Wednesday morning the funeral cortege will leave the chapel at 8:30 o'clock and ten minutes later Requiem High Mass will be sung at St. Andrew's Cathedral. Interment will be made in Royal Oak Burial Park.

KINSEY—The funeral of Mrs. Joanna Fraser Kinsey will be held from Hayward's B.C. Funeral Chapel on Tuesday at 2 o'clock, Rev. J. L. W. McLean officiating, and interment will be made in the family plot in Ross Bay Cemetery.

SCOBY—Ven. Archdeacon Hocert Connell conducted the private funeral service for John Reginald Scoby at the chapel of the Royal Oak Crematorium yesterday afternoon, after which cremation took place. Hayward's B.C. Funeral Co. was in charge.

ROWE—Many sympathizing friends attended the funeral of Peter Rowe yesterday afternoon held at Hayward's B.C. Funeral Chapel. Rev. Canon Smith conducted the service, and the hymns "Lead, Kindly Light" and "Abide With Me" were sung. The following were pallbearers: John Hill, Chris Hogan, Sam Osborne, Alex Merry, James McConnell and Jimmie White. The remains were laid at rest in the family plot in Ross Bay Cemetery.

Air Commodore Expected Here

RESERVE UNITS NEED RECRUITS

Change in Enlisting Regulations for Reserve Army Brings Few Applications

Change in the enlistment regulations for the reserve army so far has brought few additional recruits forward to join units in this area, officials reported yesterday.

A broadening of the regulations to permit married men between the ages of thirty and thirty-five to enlist in reserve units was announced by Defence Minister Ralston on Thursday. Formerly enlistment in the reserve army was limited to men under nineteen and between thirty-five and fifty years of age. Minimum age at which single men may join reserve units is still thirty-five.

RESPONSE DISAPPOINTING

Commanding officers of several units expressed themselves as "extremely disappointed" in the response since the announcement of the change. Five reserve units are stationed in this area, and of these all but the 114th Infantry Reserve Coy., Veterans' Guard of Canada, are potentially affected by the adjustment. Other units are the 5th (B.C.) Coast Brigade, R.C.A.; the Victoria Troop, 1st Searchlight Battery, R.C.A.; the 3rd Battalion, The Canadian Scottish Regiment, and the No. 13 Field Ambulance, R.C.A.M.C.

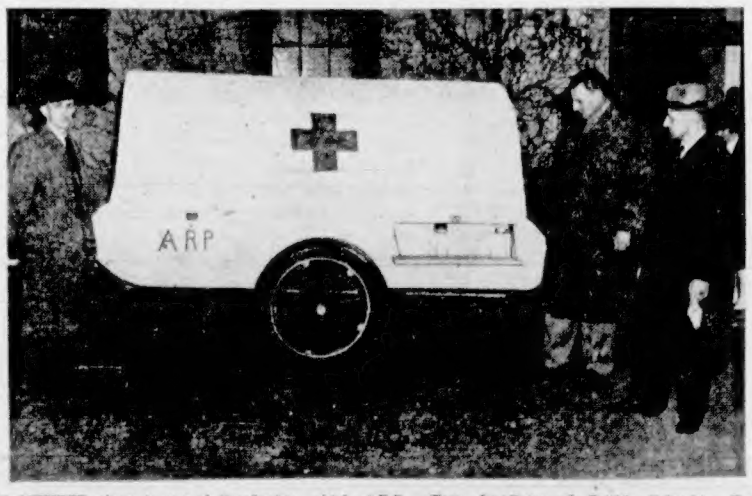
The 13th Field Ambulance is one of the units badly in need of recruits, having lost about eighty of its personnel to the active army in recent months. In addition to these replacements, the unit requires men to form a third company to bring the unit up to establishment strength.

TRAINING USEFUL

In appealing for volunteers, Capt. A. B. Nash, officer commanding, yesterday pointed out that the training received is of considerable value in civilian life since it enables recruits to qualify for St. John Ambulance certificates and for higher first-aid qualifications.

Applications for enlistment in the unit may be made weekly from Monday to Friday from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. and on Saturday from 9 a.m. to 11 a.m., and on Tuesday evening from 8 to 10 at the orderly room, Bay Street Armoury. Applicants may arrange an appointment by telephoning E 2331.

Display A.R.P. Trailer in Saanich



PICTURED above is one of the two first-aid trailers which volunteer workers have built for the A.R.P. organization in Saanich Municipality. Inspecting it are, left to right: J. Townsend, who constructed the vehicle; Capt. E. D. W. Leyien, chief A.R.P. officer for Saanich; and F. Druce, district warden for Area 5A south, Saanich. Materials with which the trailer is stocked were given by the ladies of McRae Avenue first aid point; canvas came from the Salvage Corps of British Columbia. The wheels were given by Iron Craft Products and paint by Harle-Andrews Paints, Ltd. Assisting in building and painting the trailer were Cluny McPherson, A. F. and Gordon Atkinson, H. Baker, A. Schade, D. Miller and G. Palmer.

WILL OPEN MODEL SHELTER SHORTLY

The model basement air raid shelter, now being constructed at the corner of Pandora Avenue and Blanshard Street by members of the United Organizations Security Council, will be completed and open for public inspection next Thursday, Inspector Arthur H. Bishop, civilian protection officer, said yesterday.

Eight by twelve feet, and with seven-foot head clearance, the model shelter is of heavily built wooden construction, designed to insure the safety of occupants should their home collapse over them. It is not designed to withstand a direct hit.

The walls are constructed in layers of two by four planking, for the double purpose of providing protection against shrapnel and to act as a fire wall. A flat roof is supported by two by sixes laid on end, strong enough to withstand the weight of a collapsed house. The shelter will be ventilated and will be provided with a camp cot, stove and emergency rations. The cost of the model shelter is between $60 and $70, with materials being donated. J. W. Casey is in charge of construction.

Miscellaneous Shower Given

Honoring Miss Nancy Boyd, whose marriage to Mr. J. C. Smirl takes place in April, Mesdames B. Galey and L. Small, Misses W. Gardner and K. Sparrowhawk were hostesses on Friday evening at a miscellaneous shower given at the home of Mrs. C. W. Brooks, Davie Street. On her arrival the bride-to-be was presented with a corsage bouquet of pink carnations and white hyacinths; her mother, Mrs. J. Boyd, and Mrs. J. Smirl, mother of the groom-elect, received pink carnations and purple heather corsages. The many lovely gifts were presented to Miss Boyd in a miniature house. Games were played and prizes were won by Misses E. Ledson and N. Boyd. Refreshments were served from a lace-covered table centred with daffodils in a silver bowl, flanked by white candles in green holders. The guests were Mesdames J. Boyd, A. Scott, J. Smirl, R. Sparrowhawk, R. Smirl, J. Aitkin, J. Cullingford, F. Miller, K. Cameron, R. Armstrong, F. Hebden, J. McPhail, C. Brooks, G. Markland, R. Calcutt, A. Bride-to-Be Honored

Complimenting Miss D. Hudson, who will be married next month to L.A.C. Frank Leech, R.C.A.F., members of the Victoria West Liberal Social Club entertained at a miscellaneous shower. Upon her arrival the bride-to-be was presented with a corsage bouquet of blue forget-me-nots and white carnations tied with blue ribbon. A patriotic tone was given the affair by a cleverly constructed airplane, with stripes of red, white and blue on the body and the R.C.A.F. insignia on the wings. This made an attractive setting for the many gifts which were piled in the cockpit. Later bingo was enjoyed. The guests sat down to supper and the long table was attractively decorated in blue and yellow. A bowl of daffodils on a crocheted lace cloth formed the centrepiece. Members and friends attending the affair were Mesdames E. Orchin, S. F. Leech, W. Aldred, R. Archbold, R. Banister, A. Barnswell, M. Burke, J. Caldwell, C. Constable, G. Cessford, L. Clifford, G. Tea Honored Bride-to-Be

At a delightful tea given yesterday afternoon by Mrs. John Hamilton Baynes and Miss Jeanne Groos and held at the former's home on Watson Street, Miss Eve Lytton, whose marriage to Lieutenant W. R. G. Wenman takes place shortly, was the guest of honor. The reception rooms were lovely with Spring flowers and an artistic arrangement of the same blooms formed a charming centrepiece for the tea table at which Mrs. Frank S. Stevens presided. The hostesses were assisted in serving by Mrs. J. Cuzner, Mrs. P. Howden and Miss Joyce Lytton. During the afternoon a large basket decorated with bridal wreath and silver bells and filled with useful gifts for her new kitchen was presented to the bride-to-be. The guests were Mesdames L. C. Lytton, M. M. Groos, J. Travis, P. Howden, T. Waters, J. Cuzner, Tom Woolison, F. S. Stevens, John McTavish; Miss Hettie Bradshaw, Miss Trixie Bradshaw, Nursing Sister Ruth McTavish and Misses Pat Holden, Helen Peden, Verna Beek, Jean Brown, Barbara Player and Joyce Lytton.

Weddings

REID—MORAS

A pretty wedding was solemnized in the Bishop's House last evening by Rev. Father J. A. Gaudette, when Arcisa, younger daughter of Mr. and Mrs. M. Moras, 660 Belton Avenue, became the bride of Mr. Hugh Reid, second son of Mr. and Mrs. H. Reid, Happy Valley. The bride was given away by her father, and wore a floor-length gown of white sheer with a full skirt gathered at the waist. The neck was studded in star effect with sequins and the full sleeves were caught into cuffs at the wrists. The filmy veil billowed into a long train from a halo of orange blossoms, and pink rosebuds and white carnations made up the shower bouquet. The bridesmaids were Miss Marguarite De Girolamo in powder blue sheer, and Miss Jessie Reid, sister of the bridegroom, in mauve sheer. The full-skirted frocks were fashioned alike with frilled bodices embroidered in silver beneath dainty boleros. Their hats of lace matched the frocks, and they carried bouquets of iris and sweet peas, and iris and daffodils, respectively. Mrs. J. Bonaguro, sister of the bride, was matron of honor, wearing a gold-trimmed gown of rose crepe, and a matching heart-shaped hat, and carried a bouquet of daffodils and violets. Mr. Wilbur Rhode was best man, and acting as ushers were Messrs. James Comerford and Archie Reid.

The reception was held in the K. of P. Hall where the couple received the congratulations of their many friends standing beneath an archway decorated with plum blossom and daffodils and centred with a cluster of wedding bells. White tapers in silver holders, which flanked the cake, cast a soft glow over the supper table. Mrs. Moras welcomed the guests in a pale blue dress and hat, assisted by Mrs. Reid in a rust-colored ensemble with matching hat, and corsage bouquets of pink carnations.

For a honeymoon on the Mainland, the bride left in a rose dress with a blue coat, and rose accessories, accented by a corsage bouquet of blue iris and pink carnations. Mr. and Mrs. Reid will make their home in the Rock Bay Apartments, Bay Street.

Mr. and Mrs. H. Moras, and Mr. and Mrs. J. Bonaguro, Port Alberni; and Mr. and Mrs. E. Moras, South Wellington, were guests at the wedding.

FRASER—MURRAY

The marriage of Miss Sheila Stuart Murray, R.N., second daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Murray, 1871 St. Ann Street, Oak Bay, and Mr. Herbert John Fraser, second son of Mr. and Mrs. John A. Fraser, Quesnel, B.C., took place at 3 o'clock yesterday afternoon in Oak Bay United Church. Baskets of assorted Spring flowers made a charming background for the ceremony, which was conducted by Rev. G. B. Switzer. Mr. L. Partington played the wedding music. The soloist was Captain W. H. Ruffell, who sang during the signing of the register. The bride was given away by her father, and wore a lovely full-skirted gown of white taffeta with a slight circular train, and a bustle effect at the back of the waist. Leg o' mutton sleeves and a sweetheart line were features of the bodice. The veil cascaded from a coronet of orange blossoms, and pink roses and sweet peas composed the shower bouquet. Sisters of the bride and groom were bridesmaids, wearing graceful frocks of finest sheer with long, full-sleeved jackets and matching headdresses trimmed with pink and blue forget-me-nots, and carrying arm bouquets of pink carnations and freesias. Miss Roberta Murray was in turquoise blue and Miss Lillian Fraser in palest rose pink. Private Donald Fraser, Canadian Scottish Regiment, supported his brother; and Mr. Kenneth Wilson (Vancouver) and Mr. Gordon Lough acted as ushers.

The reception was held at the Royal Victoria Yacht Club, where masses of flowers and greenery had been attractively arranged, and buffet refreshments served. Mr. W. G. Gamble, an old family friend, proposed the toast to the bride, and afterwards she cut the cake, which stood between silver vases of white carnations. Mrs. Murray received in a grey redingote style dress with navy blue accessories, and Mrs. Fraser was dressed in Alice blue with black accessories, and both wore corsage bouquets of pink carnations and forget-me-nots. For a honeymoon on the Mainland, the bride changed into a grey fitted coat over a powder blue dress, worn with a grey hat trimmed with wine, wine accessories and a corsage bouquet of yellow roses. Mr. and Mrs. Fraser will make their home in Quesnel. In addition to the bridegroom's parents, guests at the wedding included Dr. and Mrs. Switzer, Mr. and Mrs. James Harvey, Mr. and Mrs. Murray Harvey, Mr. and Mrs. D. Yelf, Mrs. H. R. Wilson, Vancouver; Mr. and Mrs. A. V. Fraser, Quesnel, and Mrs. G. C. Warnock, Calgary, Alta.

HUTCHINSON—FOOTE

Mr. and Mrs. R. C. Barrington Foote announce the marriage of their daughter, Nina Margaret to Mr. John Hutchinson, son of the late Mr. and Mrs. J. Hutchinson, Victoria, which took place very quietly last evening at the Church of Our Lord, Rev. Canon E. V. Bird officiating.

BACK FROM BRITAIN

KINGSTON, Ont., March 28 (CP)—Emma F. Pense, matron-in-chief of Canadian nurses overseas, just returned to Kingston from Britain, said today she probably would retire, after more than twenty years in the military nursing service.

Miss Pense, in charge of Canadian nurses overseas the past two years, entered the service during the first Great War and remained active and in uniform through the peace years following it.

The King, Queen, Queen Mary, Princess Margaret and the Princess Royal attended. Princess Elizabeth will be sixteen next month.

Clubs-Societies

United Church W.M.S.

Welcomed at the door by the matron, Miss Elda Daniels, and other staff members, the Presbyterial executive, United Church W.M.S., met on Friday evening at the Oriental Home, Fisgard Street, Mrs. W. J. Graham presiding. Following a short business session, the programme opened with two choruses by the kindergarten group, under the direction of Miss Pearl Willows. The Scripture was read by the president and Mrs. C. Wharton led in prayer. Excellent reports of the recent conference branch meetings were given by the four delegates, Mesdames H. B. Harris, J. W. Alton, M. Bishop and W. H. Muncy. A piano solo, "Falling Waters," by Miss M. Hamaguchi made a pleasing interlude. Tea was served by the staff, with the assistance of Mesdames Harris, Hunkin and Shaw. Thanks to all who contributed to the evening's enjoyment was expressed by Mrs. G. Guy. There will be no meeting during April, the next being scheduled for the last Friday in May.

Hand Weavers' Guild

The Victoria Hand Weavers' Guild met recently in Room 410, Union Building, Mrs. J. L. White, president, in the chair. A collection of hand-woven articles for the war charities project which is to be completed at the birthday tea on May 2 was on display. Included were linen towels, belts, bags and scarves. Following the business session, a demonstration was made of how weaving may be judged by the use of a score card. Some interesting designs were submitted for the baby blanket competition, and it was decided to leave the judging of these until the next meeting. The treasurer read an encouraging report of the financial standing of the guild and gave details of the purchase of a small Victory bond.

Canadian Scottish W.A.

Lady Burdon, O.B.E., addressed the W.A. to The Canadian Scottish Regiment at its meeting on Friday afternoon at Government House, Mrs. N. Van der Vliet presiding. Lady Burdon gave an interesting account of A.R.P. work in England, in which she took an active part and gave many helpful suggestions which might be applied locally. Mrs. S. J. MacDonald, on behalf of the auxiliary, warmly thanked Lady Burdon. After the address the members showed their interest by asking many questions which Lady Burdon answered. The next meeting of the auxiliary will be held on April 8.

St. Paul's W.A.

The W.A. of St. Paul's Naval and Garrison Church held the fortnightly meeting in the guild room recently, the president, Mrs. Narracott, conducting the devotional period. An interesting chapter of "Life of Jesus" was read by Mrs. Devenish. A Spring tea will be held on April 8, at 1121 Old Esquimalt Road, in aid of the Parish and W.A. funds. Regret was expressed by those present at the resignation of the recording-secretary, Mrs. H. C. Silburn, on account of other work. Mrs. Kennedy will act as secretary for the present.

Provost Co. W.A.

The dance held by the W.A. to No. 21 Provost Company, C.P.C. C.A., on Friday evening at the Crystal Garden, was enjoyed by many members and friends. Prizes were won by Volunteer Pat Cooney of the C.W.A.C. and others. The contest for a full-rigged ship in a bottle was drawn by Sergeant-Major Heale, of Nanaimo detachment, and was won by Lance-Corporal Baine, of Headquarters Co., No. 21 Provost Co.

Daughters of England

Princess Alexandra Lodge No. 18 met recently in the S.O.E. Hall, the president, Mrs. G. M. Baker, in the chair. Mrs. G. Jennings, president of Primrose Lodge No. 32, was welcomed. Mrs. G. Bridges, district deputy, discussed the annual church service, for which the joint meeting had been called. The next meeting will be held on Thursday at 7:30 o'clock.

Navy League W.A.

The Women's Auxiliary to the Navy League of Canada planned a St. George's Day tea and apron sale to be held on April 23, at the recent meeting at which Mrs. R. Shanks presided. Mrs. Filewood will be the tea convener and Mrs. W. Spaven will have charge of the apron stall. The meeting was held in Prince Robert House and several new members were welcomed.

Pythian Sisters

Island Temple No. 8, Pythian Sisters, met recently with Mrs. Ida Banfield presiding. Two new members were initiated and arrangements were made to receive Grand Chief Mrs. Mary Godsiner, of Nelson, on her official visit at the next meeting which will be held on Tuesday, March 31, instead of Thursday, April 9.

Purple Star

The regular meeting of the Victoria Purple Star Lodge, No. 104, will be held in the Orange Hall, on Wednesday, at 7:30 p.m. Following the meeting, bingo will be played under the convenership of Mrs. F. Rawnsley, the proceeds going to the war fund. Members are asked to bring refreshments.

Chiselers' Club

An enjoyable evening was spent recently by members of Chiselers' Bridge Club at the home of Mrs. T. Newnham, Huntington Place. Refreshments were served and prizes were won by Mrs. C. Robbins and Mrs. H. Williams. The next meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. C. Robbins, Fell Street.

Russian Relief Tag Day Raises Sum of $1,491.55

THE tag day held yesterday by the British-Russian Alliance for Red Cross relief for Soviet Russia netted the handsome sum of $1,491.55, the highest realized yet. This collection has been handed to the Canadian Red Cross Society, earmarked for medical supplies for the Soviet Union. The committee wishes to thank the public for its very generous support and all those who tirelessly gave their services.

Radio Sketch Will Outline Social Work

The growth of social welfare work in Victoria, from the pioneer days to the present, has been arranged for the joint annual dinner meeting of the Community Chest and the Council of Social Agencies to be held tomorrow evening at 6:15 o'clock at the Y.W.C.A.

The story will be told by means of a radio sketch, prepared by Mrs. Kenneth Barr, secretary-treasurer of both organizations. Mr. H. S. Hurn will be the director, and the presentation will illustrate not only the work done in the city on behalf of under-nourished and ill-adjusted families, but will point to increased improvements to be made in the near future.

Mr. F. E. Winslow, president of the Community Chest, and Mr. Joseph McKenna, president of the Council of Social Agencies, will preside at the short business meeting, which will be followed by the election of officers and the reading of reports. Reservations for the dinner may be made at the Community Chest office, E 8322.

Red Cross Benefits By Picture Showing

A successful moving picture show was held at the South Park School on Friday evening, in aid of the Red Cross. Mr. F. G. Mulliner, honorary president of the P.-T.A., introduced the guest speaker, Mr. S. Clark, who gave a short talk on Red Cross work. Mrs. Hobart Molson and Mrs. Clark were special guests. The entire proceeds will be forwarded to the Red Cross.

Quick-to-Sew Home Frock

By ANNE ADAMS

Pattern 4981

IF you're busier than a bee these days, yet want to make yourself a jolly new home frock, why not order pattern 4981 by Anne Adams? It takes very little time to sew—there are only four main sections back and front. The bias insets at the waist give a slim look to this dress—the tie-belt in front is optional. And aren't the white collar and cuffs a refreshing note? Top-stitch them if you like, or make them of the same fabric as the dress. The sewing instructor has a step-by-step plan that aids in sewing this as quickly as possible. Other choices are long sleeves, revers and ric-rac trim, and the belt may be used in back instead of in front, or omitted altogether.

Pattern 4981 is available in misses' and women's sizes 14, 16, 18, 20, 32, 34, 36, 38, 40 and 42. Size 16 takes 3¼ yards 35-inch fabric and ⅝ yard contrast.

Send 20c in coins for this Anne Adams pattern. Write plainly size, name, address and style number.

Send your order to The Daily Colonist, Pattern Department, Victoria, B.C.

BURNSIDE

The regular general meeting of the Burnside Parent-Teacher Association will be held on Wednesday at 8 p.m. Directly following the meeting, Dr. Hugh Clarke, the school dentist, will give an address accompanied by moving pictures on the work of the Dental Corps in the city schools.

MONTEREY

The St. John Ambulance Nursing Sisters' Division will receive part of proceeds from a surprise wartime tea on Wednesday, April 1, at the home of Mrs. Wallace R. Gunn, 1251 Victoria Avenue. The affair is under the auspices of the Monterey Parent-Teacher Association. Mrs. W. W. Bell, the president, will receive the guests at the door and Mrs. W. A. Spence will be in receipt of custom.

Mrs. Thomas Lumsden will have charge of the dining-room and those who have been invited to pour during the afternoon are: Mrs. W. P. D. Pemberton, superintendent of St. John Ambulance Nursing Corps; Mrs. E. J. Harwood, corps officer; Mrs. W. L. Woodhouse and Mrs. F. G. Dexter. A programme has been planned by Mrs. Gunn, the pupils of the Oak Bay Voice Arts School taking part. Mrs. J. H. Fulton will convene the home-cooking stall of various breads, tarts and cookies and Mrs. Walter Walsh has charge of the refreshments. Garden flowers will be in profusion in the reception rooms under the arrangement of Mrs. A. Glenday. Mrs. Harold Beckwith has promised an attractive plant and flower stall. The affair will be from 3 to 5:30 p.m. A cordial invitation is extended to all.

Choir Will Sing Sacred Cantata

This afternoon at 3 o'clock in the First Baptist Church Professor J. B. Hoffman's choir will render Dudley Buck's sacred Passion Cantata, "The Story of the Cross," and other choral works. The work is one of a series of cantatas written for church Festival use and contains several solos and choruses.

The following are soloists: Miss Sheila Akenhead and Miss Kathleen Paulin, soprano; Miss Joan Speed, contralto; G. F. Farmer, tenor; Thomas Crabbe, baritone, and W. H. V. Davies, bass. Mrs. C. C. Warn will be the pianist. Mr. Jack Smith will preside at the organ and during the offertory will play one of his new compositions, "Chorale and Aria." Professor J. B. Hoffman will conduct.

Ambulance Corps Will Hold Dance

The Canadian Women's Ambulance Corps is holding another of its popular dances at the Crystal Garden on Thursday evening when a good orchestra will be in attendance, and men in the forces are cordially invited as well as the general public. The proceeds will be used for the St. John Ambulance nursing division and for A.R.P. equipment for the Ambulance Corps.

Anniversary Tea Held by Forestry W.A.

Celebrating the first anniversary of the foundation of the Auxiliary to the Canadian Forestry Corps (Overseas), a delightful tea was held on Friday afternoon at the Y.W.C.A., following the general meeting. Mrs. S. W. Raven, president, was in the chair, and gave a short report of the work of the United Organizations Security Council which showed the progress made by the council in the past year. The auxiliary is affiliated with the council.

Miss Morley, cigarette convener, read thirty letters from men overseas acknowledging cigarettes received recently. The auxiliary having acquired several more companies, having Vancouver Island men in them, Miss Morley was authorized to send 20,000 cigarettes this month, an increase over past shipments.

SEEK ROYAL PREFIX

Announcement was made that an application had been sent to His Majesty the King, through the State Department at Ottawa, for the right to prefix the word Royal, to the official title of the forestry corps.

Plans for the forthcoming sugarless home cooking stall were completed, Mrs. A. B. Simpson in charge. On April 24 a plant and flower sale will be held under the direction of Mrs. W. Akenhead.

Members discussed the church service to be sponsored by the auxiliary on May 3, and to which an invitation is extended to members of all auxiliaries. Mrs. W. Akenhead and Mrs. J. Thomson are in charge of arrangements.

During the meeting it was announced that the auxiliary's proposal for affiliation with the Local Council of Women had been accepted, and delegates will be chosen at the next meeting.

About twenty guests were welcomed to the tea, at which Mrs. Alan Parlow, past president of the Vancouver auxiliary, and wife of Colonel Parlow, officer commanding the Forestry Corps Overseas, was the guest of honor. The tea table was centred with an attractive birthday cake, decorated in the colors of the corps, which had been made by Mrs. W. Akenhead. Spring flowers completed the table decorations, and Mrs. S. W. Raven, president, cut the cake.

The committee in charge of the tea included Mrs. Akenhead, Mrs. R. N. Pearce and Mrs. Smith-Neill.

Esquimalt Unit Raises $70 for Red Cross Funds

Approximately $70 was raised for the Red Cross by the concert given on Friday evening under the auspices of the Esquimalt Unit. The Saskatchewan Concert Party arranged the entertainment, which proved as popular as all the other programmes the party has given in the city during the Winter months.

RED CROSS

STRAWBERRY VALE UNIT

There were twenty-five members present at the fortnightly meeting of the Strawberry Vale Red Cross Unit in the Colquitz Hall on Thursday afternoon. Two new members were welcomed, and a large quantity of work returned, a large percentage of this being for refugees. Mrs. J. Hoy reported that parcels had been sent to sons, husbands and brothers of members of the unit who are serving overseas. Arrangements are being made by Mrs. R. Riekki to hold a five hundred party at her home on Hastings Street, on Wednesday evening, April 1.

FAIRFIELD UNIT

The monthly meeting of the Fairfield Red Cross Unit was held on Friday afternoon, the president, Mrs. S. T. Sehl, in the chair. The date of the imaginary bazaar was set for April 10. Envelopes and letters were distributed and donations may be made to the treasurer, Mrs. J. Gorman, 404 Linden Avenue, or to any member of the unit. The War Service Club of the Fairfield United Church reported eighteen quilts and afghans completed under the supervision of Mrs. Gordon and Mrs. Keefe. A teen-age group of girls has been organized under the leadership of Mrs. W. G. H. Firth to knit for the unit. In future the monthly business meeting will be held on the fourth Friday of each month. Tea was served by the War Service Club of the Fairfield United Church.

STOCKTAKING

It has been announced that the distributing room of the Red Cross Society headquarters will be closed for stocktaking from Good Friday, April 3, until Monday, April 13. The units may use their own discretion as to whether or not they close during the period. A conveners' meeting will be held in the Y.W.C.A. on Monday, April 20, at 2:30 p.m., and all conveners are urged to attend. An urgent appeal is being made to all conveners to co-operate in an endeavor to have their finished work ready for collection when their requisitions are delivered, in order to save gasoline.

"EMERGENCIES IN WAR"

"Emergencies in War" is the name of a new manual published by the Red Cross Society for use by both teachers and pupils in the Red Cross home nursing classes. During 1941 there were twenty-two classes with an enrollment of 445. According to Miss Grace M. Fairley, chairman of the nursing advisory committee, there is reason to believe that the fullest advantage has not been taken of the facilities offered by the Red Cross for home and emergency nursing. Owing to shortage of nurses and physicians, Red Cross branches are urged to interest all women in the community in these classes.

VICTORIA PRISONER'S THANKS

"The Red Cross is doing a great job—food, blankets and clothing—we owe them a lot," writes Sergeant H. O. Calvert, prisoner of war No. 119, Stalag. 11-E, Germany, to his mother, Mrs. F. Homer Dixon, 919 Transit Road, Victoria.

C.C.F. Council

The Saanich Women's C.C.F. Council will hold a silver tea on Tuesday, April 7, from 3 to 5 p.m., in the Business and Professional Women's Club rooms, Union Building. Mrs. P. Rayment will be the speaker and all interested are cordially invited to attend.

Chinese Play Will Assist War Victims

The reasons for the Chinese people's indomitable spirit in their fight against Japan will be the theme of one of the most elaborate semi-operatic Chinese plays to be staged in Victoria in recent years. The play, "New China Holds the Torch," was written and directed by Spud Chow, a well-known figure in Chinese dramatic circles. It is being put on by the Chinese Music Club and will be at the York Theatre on Sunday, April 5, the curtain rising at 7 p.m.

CAST ANNOUNCED

The cast of the play was drawn from the finest of local talent, including John Chow, Nellie Chow, Verna Wong, Betty Lim, Alfred Wong, Robert Lowe, Harry Lim, John Bong, William Lowe, Bessie Hope, Dora Hope, Ho Chee, Lo Ley and a large supporting cast.

Tickets give the purchaser a chance on twelve valuable prizes donated by various local business firms, the feature prize being a $100 General Electric radio. The prizes are on display at Yee Lun Ark Kee Company on Fisgard Street. Tickets are obtainable from members of the Chinese Music Club.

Entire proceeds from the show will go to augment funds for Chinese soldiers injured in battle and innocent refugee) victims of Japanese barbarity.

Your Health and Your Weight

MORE ABOUT BENZEDRINE SULFATE AS A WEIGHT REDUCER

By JAS. W. BARTON, M.D.

One of the ailments the number of cases of which seem to be increasing is narcolepsy, the most important symptom of which is the almost uncontrollable desire to sleep. The patient is often quite healthy, with the result that, because of this extra amount of sleep, he may greatly increase in weight. To keep him awake and increase his activity, various methods are in use. The latest method is amphetamine sulphate (benzedrine sulfate). This drug has a two-fold effect in that in addition to keeping the patient awake and active, he is not usually very hungry and does not crave food.

The combination of keeping awake and active and having no desire for food not only brigthens the individual mentally, but because the excess fat is gradually removed, he improves physically also.

It is for this reason that there are now so many reports showing excellent results in the treatment of obesity (overweight) by the use of benzedrine sulfate. I have mentioned two special cases, one of whom lost nearly 150 pounds and the other over 200 pounds by the use of this drug.

However, benzedrine sulfate is not a new treatment, as Drs. Mark F. Lesses and Abraham Myerson, Boston, about three years ago in The New England Medical Journal reported a number of cases of obesity treated with benzedrine sulfate.

Their patients were placed on a measured unweighed diet of 1,400 calories which would be just a half or less their usual diet. Each patient is given tablets which are scored so that they may be broken into quarters. Three doses daily, a large dose in the morning, a moderate or medium dose at noon and a small or medium dose late in the afternoon, are given. The dose was gradually increased from week to week if no symptoms arose.

"The largest dose was given in the morning when the feeling of energy was at its lowest and the smallest was given in the afternoon when the energy output was increasing and the time for sleep was approaching."

These physicians found benzedrine sulfate to be an important aid in the treatment of obesity. It decreases the appetite and increases the sense of well-being and energy.

It can readily be seen that if an individual feels well and full of energy and has no particular desire for food, fat is bound to come off. Thus benzedrine sulfate fulfills the requirements of the ideal method of reducing weight—more exercise, less food.

With the low diet, especially low in fats and starches, benzedrine sulfate "helps the patient follow the diet with ease by getting rid of the ill-timed craving for food."

It must be remembered, however, that as exercise is an ideal method of removing fat because it raises the temperature, heart rate and blood pressure, so also does benzedrine sulfate raise the temperature, heart rate and blood pressure. In a healthy normal individual this does no harm, but in a case where the blood pressure is already high and the heart may be beginning to fail, benzedrine sulfate can be harmful or even dangerous.

It is because benzedrine sulfate can be taken by mouth and may not be hard to obtain at the drug store that I am purposely not giving the dose used by Drs. Lesses and Myerson because every overweight should be examined by his or her physician before and during the use of this drug.

Another dangerous effect of the drug is that it acts almost like cocaine or even strychnine in increasing energy and courage and in the case of motorists may stimulate even more than alcohol. "In car drivers the tendency to reckless driving after the use of this drug may present a serious problem."

However, under a physician's supervision it is a valuable drug in the treatment of obesity in that as mentioned above it fulfills the ideal weight reducer—more exercise, less food.

Girls' Council Banquet Held

Fifty-three delegates arrived yesterday from Vancouver to attend the Regional conference of the Y.W.C.A. senior girls, which is being held here this week end and which opened last evening with a banquet at the Y.W.C.A., Miss Catherine Cameron, president of the Victoria Senior Girls' Council, in the chair. The visitors were given a warm welcome by over sixty Victoria members.

Dinner was served in the recreation room, the tables prettily arranged with daffodils and narcissi and illuminated by blue and white candles placed in triangle formation. Guests at the head table included Mrs. Seiden, Vancouver; Miss Margaret Hart, girls' work secretary (Vancouver); Dr. Olga Jardine, president of the Victoria Board of Directors; Rev. P. J. Disney, the guest speaker; Miss A. Heywood, of the inter-club council (Vancouver); Miss Frances Strong, of the Vancouver Council, and Mrs. H. P. Hodges, who will give an address at today's gathering.

Miss Heywood replied to the president's greeting on behalf of the Vancouver visitors; Dr. Jardine brought greetings from the board; Miss Elizabeth Tatman led a sing-song which preceded the address by Mr. Disney.

GIVES ADDRESS

"A Philosophy for Living in These Times," was the subject of Mr. Disney's address, and in a clever and witty manner he expressed his ideas on the subject, giving the girls "four pegs on which to hang their conference discussions." His philosophy was summed up in the words "in thought, faith; in word, wisdom; in deed, courage, and in life, service." He emphasized the importance of faith in one's self, in one's fellow men and in God. He advocated the wisdom of thinking before speaking, the need for courage and the service of one's life. All these points were essential in character-building, he said. Humorous stories, told in a way which made an instant appeal to his listeners, were fraught with deep significance and at the close of his remarks he was enthusiastically applauded, the thanks of the girls being charmingly expressed by Miss Frances Strong (Vancouver).

After dinner the delegates attended a dance in the auditorium of the Sir James Douglas School, to which members of the army, navy and air force were invited.

The business of the conference will be held today after an opening worship service this morning.

Metchosin Unit Will Hold Show

The Metchosin Unit of the Red Cross is preparing for the annual Spring Flower and Bulb Show for Metchosin and district, which will be held in the Metchosin Hall on Wednesday, April 8, from 2 till 6 o'clock.

The committee, headed by Mrs. H. D. Meredith-Jones and Mrs. R. F. Mathews has decided upon the following prize list: Section "A," daffodils, three blooms—Divisions: 1, trumpets; 2, incomparabilis; 3, barri; 4, leedsii; 5, doubles. Section "B," Spring bulbs (other than daffodils), three blooms—Divisions: 1, hyacinths; 2, scillas; 3, grape hyacinths (muscari). Section "C," tulips, three blooms—Divisions: 1, early singles; 2, doubles; 3, Darwin; 4, May flowering or cottage; 5, other varieties. (Judges have the right to create a class for worthy entries). Section "D," collection of mixed flowers judged for quality and variety (space approximately 24 by 24 inches). Section "E," general—Divisions: 1, mixed flower baskets; 2, Colonial bouquets; 3, pansies; 4, wallflowers; 5, primroses; 6, decorated tables (approximate size 36 inches square; card tables). No candles or special ornaments. Judged on artistic merits. Section "F," children's section—Divisions: 1, corsage bouquets; 2, miniature gardens (maximum size 18 by 24 inches); 3, buttonholes.

All exhibits must be in by or before 12 o'clock, noon, day of show; not removed before 6 p.m., and all exhibits must be property of and grown by exhibitor, except Section "F" and Section "E," Division 6. Exhibitors must provide suitable containers and exhibits may be placed for show only by appointed officials.

Prizes will be awarded in any class where there are at least four entries, and if there are sufficient exhibits in any unlisted class, such class will be included. The Red Cross Challenge Cup won last year by Mrs. R. F. Mathews, goes to the winner of the largest aggregate points. Cost of admission will include tea.

Special attractions will include a "lucky dip," a home-cooking stall, a stall for contests, and the services of an expert fortune teller. The Junior Red Cross of the Metchosin school are entering into a poster contest in connection with the Flower Show, and the posters will be on display.

MARINE and TRANSPORTATION

SEEK BOOKS FOR SEAMEN

Surplus Reading Matter Would Be Welcome in Cargo Ship Libraries

Freighters building on the British Columbia Coast for Wartime Merchant Shipping, Ltd., will not go to sea bookless if a committee of prominent shipping men in Mainland and Island ports can obtain the co-operation of sundry admirers of the men who man merchant ships at the present time and have urplus books lying around which they would be willing to contribute to a number of cargo ship libraries.

Vancouver has an energetic committee, while Captain R. W. McMurray, manager of the B.C. Coast Service, and Henry King, of King Brothers, shipping brokers, are interested in making a local collection of books to go aboard vessels completed here from time to time. The books donated will bear a rubber stamp impression showing origin, such as "Presented to Ss. —— by Victoria."

Cargo ships constructed on the Coast are all equipped with bookcases, but no reading matter is supplied by Wartime Shipping. Members of the "library" committee in Coast ports, appreciating what the merchant marine is doing in the present war, would like to see each vessel start out on her maiden voyage with at least a small start towards a library.

DONATED LIBRARY

His Honor the Lieutenant-Governor was good enough to present the first vessel commissioned with a library; but as there will be many ships to supply with books, the indulgence of the people at large is being sought for contributions. Arrangements will be made to have books donated delivered to the master of a particular vessel if the donor has any special desire, and books will be called for by Mr. King if it is not convenient to leave them at his office on Langley Street.

Books of all kinds suitable for adult reading will be acceptable, provided they are in good condition. A poll recently taken concerning what sailormen read afloat showed that they like a fair amount of solid literature as well as the best in modern fiction.

Welding School Executives

KARL BAADSVIK

D. M. HARVEY

KARL Baadsvik, operator of the Island Welding School, Shelbourne Street, has recently returned from an extended visit to Pacific Coast shipyards and trade schools, in which he made an exhaustive study of the latest training methods as applied to the industry. The latest methods are now used in the training of welders at his own well-equipped school. Mr. Baadsvik has been operating a school for the training of welders in this city for some time, and a great many of his gradutes are now employed in local plants. The school is under Government registration and in training welders, it operates in the closest co-operation with local industry. Pictured with Mr. Baadsvik is Donald M. Harvey, registrar, who handles the necessary details in connection with the courses offered by the school.

RECEIVED THEIR WINGS

FINGAL, Ont., March 28 (CP).—Classes of air gunners and air observers today received their wings from Squadron-Leader F. M. Gobell at No. 4 Bombing and Gunnery School of the Royal Canadian Air Force here.

Air observer graduates included: B. J. Burdon-Murphy and C. Maddin, Vancouver; and J. P. Standfast, Revelstoke. Air gunner graduates included: G. A. Lunn, Quesnel; M. T. MacMillan, G. E. McDonald, A. F. MacDonald, P. C. H. Tripp, Vancouver.

CHANGE IN MAIL TIME

On March 30 and 31, the afternoon mail will close at Victoria Postoffice at 2:50 p.m., instead of 3:10 p.m., according to Postmaster G. H. Gardiner. Alterations in airport arrangements makes the change necessary.

Volunteers From French Island Land in England

LONDON, March 28 (CP).—Clad in new naval uniforms, 186 youths from St. Pierre-Miquelon just arrived in Britain to join the Free French were greeted today by General Charles De Gaulle, who smiled down on fourteen-year-old Rene Etcheverria, youngest member of the group, and told him he was a "stout-hearted fellow."

General De Gaulle inspected the party of volunteers in a garden outside the reception centre, from which they will be taken to a Free French naval training school. He chatted with every one of them, including six girls from St. Pierre, who will join Les Volontaires Francaises.

COMOX MAN GRADUATES

JARVIS, Ont., March 28 (CP).—Air observers and air gunners from six provinces in Canada and several parts of the United States and Australia graduated here today from No. 1 Bombing and Gunnery School, R.C.A.F.

Among air gunners graduating is G. R. Scott, Comox, B.C.

WILL INCREASE PLANE SERVICE

Yukon Southern to Operate On Six-Day-Weekly Schedule Shortly

EDMONTON, March 28.—Commencing April 1 Yukon Southern Air Transport will increase its service from Vancouver to the Yukon and Alaska to a six-times-weekly basis. Daily, with the exception of Friday, planes will depart for and arrive from the north country. This new schedule has been designed with a view to more complete and more convenient connections with United Air Lines operating out of Vancouver. A stop-over of only a few minutes is now required when either north or southbound over the route.

Passengers abroad a northbound United Air Lines plane arrive in Vancouver at 9:30 a.m. and leave for the Yukon just thirty minutes later via Yukon Southern. Conversely, passengers arriving in Vancouver via Yukon Southern at 5:30 p.m. may leave for the south and all points in the United States at 7:15 p.m. A similar arrangement has been provided for in Edmonton where Yukon Southern makes connection with Trans-Canada Air Lines.

Formerly departing for the North at 9:30 a.m. on Monday, Wednesday and Saturday, the new schedule calls for a later departure at 12:45 noon, forty-five minutes after the arrival of the northbound Trans-Canada Air Lines ship. Instead of returning to the Edmonton base on the same day, at 5:30 p.m., planes operating on the new system will arrive in Edmonton on Tuesday, Thursday and Sunday, at 5:00 p.m. in plenty of time to make connection with the southbound Trans-Canada Air Lines plane which leaves the city at 6:15 p.m.

Within approximately sixty days the service out of Edmonton will be increased to an almost daily schedule, co-ordinating with the Vancouver trip at Fort St. John, B.C. Daily connection with Pan-American Airways planes at Whitehorse, Yukon, complete the through service to Alaska.

CONGRATULATED BY ADMIRALTY

Part Played by Canadian Fighter Squadron Given Highest Approval

By FOSTER BARCLAY
Canadian Press Staff Writer

LONDON, March 28 (CP).—German E-boats, which seldom dare leave the safety of home waters, now have good reason to fear daredevil attacks by Canadian fighter pilots, who always are on the lookout for enemy targets on land and sea and in the air.

Ten Spitfire pilots patroling The Netherlands coast recently surprised a flotilla of five E-boats hugging the shore, swooped down and gave them the "works."

How many of these German high-speed surface craft were sunk or damaged during the battle is not known, but a British fighter squadron which passed over the scene later said it sighted more than a dozen bodies and a mass of wreckage floating on the choppy water. The Admiralty was so pleased with the results that it sent the Canadians a message of congratulations.

Taking part in the decisive battle were Flt. Lt. William Napier, Campbellton, N.B.; P.O. Harry Needham, Wynyard, Sask.; P.O. George Davidson, Brantford, Ont.; P.O. John Brookhouse, Montreal; P.O. A. P. L. (Apple) Smith, Cupar, Sask.; P.O. L. A. Stewart, Fairy Hill, Sask.; P.O. Richard Ellis, Montreal; Flt.-Sgt. S. G. Napier, Capreol, Ont.; Flt.-Sgt. H. V. Thompson, Toronto, and Sgt. W. F. Aldcorn, Gouverneur, Sask.

When the airmen first spotted the E-boats they were not certain about their identity because visibility was poor and British motor torpedo boats also were known to be at sea. The Germans, however, identified themselves with a barrage of flak and the battle started.

IN ROARING RELAYS

The Canadians dived in roaring relays, spraying the fleeing craft with cannon fire and machine-gun bullets. Tracer bullets showed all the vessels received direct hits and one exploded with a huge orange colored flash. The Spitfires returned to base unscathed.

"Our cannon shells are capable of going right through an E-boat," P.O. Davidson said. "Our lads are certain we plastered everyone in the flotilla. We couldn't hang around to see how many of them we sank as we didn't have much gasoline left and we were a long way from home. As soon as our ammunition was exhausted we had to leave."

Halibut Fleets Responsible for Change of Dates

OTTAWA, March 28 (CP).—Representations made by the halibut fleets were responsible for setting the opening date for the 1942 halibut season at April 16, fifteen days later than formerly, A. J. Whitmore, Canadian member of the International Fisheries Commission, said today.

"The halibut regulations for 1941 fixed April 1 as the opening date for that year but indicated that for 1942 the season would begin April 16." Mr. Whitmore explained. "This later date was based on representations made to the commission by the halibut fleets from the various fishing ports at that time."

Vancouver Firms Will Do Dredging And Repair Jobs

Vancouver firms have secured dredging and repair jobs at Esquimalt and Sidney respectively. The biggest job is for dredging at the south landing wharf and entrance to dock at Esquimalt, the work to be carried out by McKenzie Barge & Derrick Company at a cost of $16,500. Improvements and repairs to the wharf structure at Sidney will be carried out by Vancouver Piledriving & Contracting Company at a cost of $12,433.

The Sidney job consists of providing new creosoted piling in wharfhead; new fixed slip of creosoted timber; new and heavier superstructure of untreated lumber for existing wharfhead, and connection to auto ferry slip and approach; new platform sixty feet long connecting rear face of wharfhead and westerly side of approach; new shed thirty by fifty feet; new float eight by twenty-four feet; new nineteen-pile creosoted dolphin.

Shopping Hours

There has been much confusion and much difference of opinion on the vexed question of the hours of opening and closing among the retail stores of Victoria. And recently many stores have changed their closing hour from 6:00 to 5:30 without a full consideration of all the factors involved.

★

Workers in our War Industries pour into the City from outlying districts and transfer to other districts between the hours of 5:00 and 5:30, thus making 5:30 the most congested of all hours on our Street Cars and Buses.

★

By closing their stores at 5:30 Victoria merchants are still further complicating an almost impossible situation at the very peak of the rush hour—and absolutely ignoring the necesssity for co-operation in this, as in other wartime difficulties.

★

At Eddy's we are neither hidebound by tradition nor inclined to follow the crowd—it has ever been our policy to change methods of merchandising and to smash precedents whenever we felt that we could best serve the public interest by doing so. We heartily agree that ladies who can, should get home from their shopping by 4:30 at latest, and that those who cannot do so should wait downtown until 6:00 and conserve as much as possible of the inadequate bus and street car accommodation for War Industry Workers.

★

And so Eddy's announce their store hours will continue to be 9:30 a.m. to 6:00 p.m.—they believe in co-operation—they refuse to add to the congestion. What is YOUR opinion in this matter? We will be glad to hear from you.

COLLEGE CAGE TEAM VICTORS

Craigdarroch Quintette Defeats Victoria High in Hoop Battle

Junior College basketball gained some revenge over Victoria High School on Friday afternoon by turning them back in an inter-school fixture by a 32-25 score after a close-checking game. The Collegians started the battle at a fast clip and were out in front at the end of the first quarter, 10-6, and then extended the margin to 22-9 at the half.

During the interval, Victoria High displayed their smart majorettes, and the cheer sections and school spirit were active on both sides.

Showing renewed vigor in the second half, the High hoopsters drove desperately to close the gap and at the end of the third quarter were only trailing by a 25-22 score. In the final ten minutes, play became rough and feeling ran high at times. College held on to the finish, despite strong offensives from the opposition.

Coach Don Anderson's College quintette will wind up their schedule this week when they meet the strong St. Louis College squad in the best of three games for the Inter-Scholastic League championship.

Hetherington and Donaghy handled the game and teams follow:

Victoria College—Bostock 2, Williams 5, Mathewson 1, McKeachie 3, Lorrimer 14, McKinnon 1. Total, 32.

Victoria High School—Cains 3, MacKenzie 1, Chungranes 4, Hampden 7, Peden 7, Kershaw 3, Wood, Shimizu, Curtis. Totals 25.

Quisling Investiture

Perhaps the Nazis were superstitious when they chose so ancient and historic a site for the investiture of Quisling as Fuhrer of Norway. The inglorious investiture of their creature was held in Oslo's Akershus, built as a fortress to protect the city in 1299. It was attacked in vain by Sweden eleven years later, by the Danes in 1531, and by the Swedes again in 1567 and 1718.

DEFENCE OF CANADA

Sir,—I have read with interest several letters about defence, including those of Mr. R. D. MacLachlan, the national secretary of the Defence of Canada League, which were admirable.

I would like, however, to correct a few assertions in regard to this matter, such as, I quote, "I am glad to see a defence committee has been set up two years too late."

The answer to this is that the Defence of Canada League was set up in 1936. It was rigidly non-political and sought to muster the leading citizens of Victoria and vicinity into its ranks. All executives gave their services voluntarily. All appointments were temporary in order to make way for more popular and better informed new members. Every single question mentioned to date has been exhaustively threshed out between the Defence of Canada League and Government and municipal authorities, who met their suggestions with a certain amount of bored tolerance and very little co-operation. The cause of their failure in reaching their objective in preparedness was due to the ambitions of some politicians and certain fraternal bodies who desired to use the Defence of Canada League as a substitute, which naturally our executive did not tolerate.

The mental attitude in Victoria towards defence has unfortunately always been that anyone with inspiration and pre-vision is a fool, and that they themselves, however inexperienced, are the logical persons to do the job. Having seen battle, murder, rape and fire myself, I was asked, pro tem, to navigate the Defence of Canada League. I ask, in all humility, are any of this new defence committee familiar with the conditions they are chosen to protect you from? Against ruthlessness you need a ruthless administration of protection and no politics.

There is only one suggestion that appears relevant. If you are really serious, Victoria, stop playing "King of the Castle." Secure a rigid, grim disciplinarian, even if he treads on your very tender corns and place him in charge, with an experienced, efficient committee. Give them all the authority and backing you are capable of. Do it now and keep on doing it till it hurts.

NEVILLE E. FAIRWEATHER,
National President,
Defence of Canada League.

POLITICAL PROMISES

Sir,—Major Piddington is apparently content to tell part of the story regarding the alleged broken promises of Mr. Mackenzie King to the Province of Alberta. Well, it seems only fair that a little more of this tale should be told (even if it should be a bit threadbare) before Mr. King is pronounced guilty. Late in the Alberta election campaign of 1935 Mr. Aberhart sent a Calgary lawyer named Hugill on a hurried "stump" of the province to assure the electors there was nothing in Social Credit that could possibly conflict with the Constitution.

Later, when the Social Credit party go in, Mr. Hugill was appointed attorney-general, and shortly after that he got jittery about the legality of the measures and resigned his post. Mr. Aberhart then took this position himself, but knowing that most of his stuff was illegal and against his election promises, he did nothing until prodded into action by a group of simple-minded and earnest insurgents. After that there was the face-saving business and the ever-popular game of shifting the onus to a nice broad back at Ottawa.

Your correspondent asks if I have never heard of Mr. King's promise regarding credit and currency, and I in turn, say that he tried his best to implement that promise by the institution of a Central Bank. I have no brief for Mr. Mackenzie King and might even be inclined to believe "that his eminence is partly due to the extreme flatness of the surrounding country." At the same time, fair play is a jewel, and the Prime Minister is not at all a good man to pick on as a breaker of promises, since he seldom makes any. The notion of holding him responsible for fancied obligations towards the illegal acts of Alberta (such as the imposition of tariffs on sister provinces, to mention but one thing), does not seem to me to be very sound logic somehow.

REDUCING DIETS

When an overweight reads about the Hollywood diets which keep screen stars from becoming fat, naturally he or she thinks there is something of a secret nature, something magical about these diets.

As a matter of fact, it is likely that screen stars do not use some of these diets said to be used by them because their health is their greatest asset and they are wise enough not to take chances with their health. These "magic" diets would soon cause malnutrition, weakness, lustreless eyes, and a "skinny" body.

The famous eighteen-day diet was a diet to be used in a race against time to fulfill a term of a contract. This term was that the actress would be at a certain weight on a certain date. The taking of a little meat, some rough bulky vegetables and some fruit juice enabled her to fulfill the contract and be at the agreed weight within the eighteen-day period. We all know now what happened to many women who undertook the eighteen-day diet. Some came through it safely; some wisely stopped after trying it a few days; some "said" they followed it faithfully; others collapsed and many died.

The eighteen-day diet, however, had one point in its favor, that is it had the individual eat "some" meat, eat some bulky vegetables, and included citrus fruit juices. The real danger from it was that it did not provide enough of these three food substances, particularly meat.

While some vitamins were present in the diet, there was not enough of that vitamin "B" and its family. The average overweight knows about meats, starches, and fats but how can he be sure of getting enough vitamins and minerals?

"A glass of whole milk, an egg, and a half glass of orange juice (four ounces) daily will supply minerals, enough animal protein, and the necessary amount of vitamin 'C'. All together these give only 230 calories but should prevent malnutrition." It will be necessary, of course, to use only about 1,500 calories in all to bring the weight down to normal.

The above suggestion—a 1,500 calorie diet of which 230 should be made up as above, is for cases where the overweight is due simply to over-eating. In cases where there is lack of some gland extract—thyroid, pituitary, adrenal, sex, treatment by gland extract in addition to a reduced diet will be necessary.

The "EYE" that looks through Steel

A crankshaft is set up under the "eye" of the giant X-ray machine. The operator steps outside the lead-lined safety chamber, pulls a switch to set the X-rays working. Deep into the solid metal, the mechanical "eye" probes — taking pictures that will reveal the tiniest imperfection. The X-ray test for metals and parts is one of the precautions in "the Ford way" of building fighting machines for fighting men.

Far off, over a sand-swept desert, Empire soldiers speed into battle in sturdy Canadian-built universal carriers — their automatic guns spitting defiance at the foe. They trust their lives to vital metal parts minutely inspected by the scientist in the Ford of Canada plant.

The Canadian worker may never hear a gun shot. But his skill and knowledge ride into battle with those Empire warriors. His painstaking job is part of the production program which has sent thousands upon thousands of strong, dependable vehicles to help our fighting forces.

Roosevelt Approves Plan to Defer Interruptions of General War Effort

WASHINGTON, March 28 (AP)—Presidential approval was given today to a plan under which prosecuting and defense attorneys in anti-trust cases will be asked to defer the actions temporarily whenever they can do so without interfering with the United States war effort.

The President's action was made public by the White House today in the exchange of letters showing the plan had been worked out by Attorney General Francis Biddle, War Secretary Henry Stimson, Navy Secretary Frank Knox and Thurman Arnold, Assistant Attorney General in charge of anti-trust prosecutions.

The four officials notified the President of the plan in a memorandum dated March 20. Mr. Roosevelt gave his approval the same day.

"You take your laxatives —I'll take ANDREWS"

START THE DAY RIGHT! IT'S A HABIT with thousands—one you'll enjoy—to start each day right with a light regulative glassful of ANDREWS to avoid eliminative upsets.

CATCHING COLD? Ask a dozen different people and you'll learn as many different ways to fight it, all beginning with "open the bowels." But merely opening the bowels is not enough! For when bowels need help, other organs usually need help, too—and they can't get it from ordinary laxatives that move the bowels but do nothing more.

Many people who know these facts wisely rely on ANDREWS for its sensible, quick, foot-way relief. Try it! The minute a sniffle or sneeze warns of a cold, drink a sparkling glassful of ANDREWS, and take more as directed. Ropes the bowels, stimulates the liver, helps the kidneys and acts to neutralize excess gastric acid, thus speeding relief and prolonging comfort. Remember ANDREWS for headache, too, and for digestive upsets.

Ask for ANDREWS at any drug store. Four-oz. tin, 44¢; 8-oz tin, 77¢; 16-oz. bottle, 80¢.

DIRECTOR APPOINTED

OTTAWA, March 28 (CP). Transport Minister Chevrier today announced the appointment of Edward James Young of Dunnet, Sask., as acting director of the Canadian National Railways to fill the vacancy created by the death last month of the late R. J. Muller of Regina, Sask.

The appointment is for a period expiring September 30, 1945. Mr. Young, born and educated in Winnipeg, is a farmer and economist.

LISBON, March 28.—A Portuguese transport reported today she had picked up the crew of a Royal Air Force plane which had ditched off Newfoundland and was proceeding to Lisbon.

Rangers and Leafs Resort to Rough Stuff in Play-Offs

Remember Us! Seems to Say This Fair Fan's Gloved Hand as Dave Schriner (11), of the Leafs, and Neil Colville Start Fighting Alongside Boards at Madison Square Garden

V.M.D. and Army to Meet in Juvenile Day Feature Here Saturday

WITH the net proceeds going to assist in the promotion of game soccer, V.M.D.'s second annual Juvenile Day will be held Saturday at Royal Athletic Park. Feature attraction will be a return match between Captain Pat Carey's Army footballers and the Victoria Machinery Depot. The clubs met some time ago and the civilian workers finished on the right end of the score. The soldiers dissatisfied with the result have been angling for a return match and plans have now been completed for the teams to battle. Saturday's game is slated for 2.30 o'clock. As a preliminary to the Army V.M.D. match, the final of the Lower Island Juvenile Cup series will be played. Forced to carry on as best they can, the up and coming young footballers will receive a financial jolt in the arm from the gate receipts of Saturday's matches.

Carnival Sponsors Not Superstitious; Plan Thirteen Acts

Excellent Programme Arranged for Gigantic Ice Show Tuesday Evening at the Willows Arena—A.R.P. and Solarium to Benefit

Sponsors of Tuesday's gigantic ice carnival at the Willows Arena have given Old Man Superstition the go by with their announcement that thirteen events will be presented on the much-talked-about programme. Wary attendants to the carnival said the amount of bad luck attached to the number thirteen would be more than counterbalanced by the fact that it is being staged with a view to assisting the Army and Queen Alexandra Solarium.

Worn to a frazzle?

Worn to a frazzle? Then don't stay that way . . . call for a Guinness at once! When you're tired, there's nothing so refreshing as a glass of Guinness. No other brew has so hearty, so robust, so rare a flavour! After work or exercise, as an appetizer or with meals, and when you are going to bed—have a Guinness!

There are literally thousands of people [illegible]

GUINNESS IS GOOD for you? Ask anyone from Great Britain!

For years, it has been accepted as a fact in the Old Country that Guinness is both good and good for you. Guinness is brewed from four natural ingredients—malt, hops, pure spring water and special Guinness yeast. Mellowed for more than a year in oak vats, then in bottle, Guinness is never pasteurized or filtered. It retains all its natural goodness, including the goodness of the yeast. Treat yourself to a Guinness this evening. Get a bottle on the way home.

Have a GUINNESS today!

3 DEATHS

RICHARDSON—Word has been received by Dr. R. R. Richardson that his father, Dr. Alan Richardson, died in Shanghai [illegible] in February. The late Dr. Richardson was born in Maidstone, Kent, England, in 1863. He first came to Victoria in 1911 and made frequent visits since that time. He is survived by two daughters, Mrs. James Hay, still in Shanghai, Mrs. Hugh Comer of Shanghai, now in Laguna Beach, Calif., two sons, Dr. A. Harvey Richardson, Bolton, England, and Dr. B. R. Richardson, Victoria.

CHAN—At St. Joseph's Hospital, on March 24, 1942, Lily Hong Chan, 1704 Quadra Street, Victoria, aged [illegible] eight years. Born in San Francisco, Calif., and a resident of this city for the last forty years. Survived by her husband, Chan Hong Chan, and six daughters, Robert Edward and James Rose Mason, Mrs. Mae Jennings and Betsy Chan, twelve grandchildren, also a brother all of Victoria. The remains are resting at the Sands Mortuary, Ltd., from where funeral service will be held on Monday, March 30, 1942, at 2 p.m. Rev. M. P. Leung will officiate and interment will be in Royal Oak Burial Park.

KINNEY—At the residence of her daughter, Mrs. R. W. Acker, 418 Quebec Street, on March 27, 1942, Mrs. Jane Fraser Kinney, widow of the J. Kinney, aged [illegible] years. Survived by one son, Alexander, of Victoria, five daughters, Mrs. J. D. Irving, Seattle, Mrs. Thomas E. Evans, of Calgary, Alta., and Mrs. R. W. Acker, two sons, Alexander, in Portland, Ore., and William D., of Quadrupe, B.C., [illegible] grandchildren, at least four great-grandchildren. Funeral from Hayworth's, 817 Fineral Chapel, on Tuesday, at 2:30 p.m. Rev. J. L. W. McLean officiating. Interment in family plot in Ross Bay Cemetery.

GERRALL—There passed away Saturday, March 28, at 427 Douglas Street, of Mrs. Agatha Gerrall, aged [illegible] five years. Born in Alsace Lorraine, France, and a resident in this city for the past three years, formerly residing with her daughter, Mrs. John R. Clements, 1312 Prospect Avenue. The deceased is survived by besides Mrs. Clements, one [illegible] Gerrall, at the family residence, two sons and three daughters. The remains are resting at the Sands Mortuary, Ltd. Tuesday evening at 8 o'clock, prayers will be held on Wednesday morning, April 1, the cortege will leave the chapel at 8:40 o'clock and ten minutes later Mass will be sung at St. Andrew's Cathedral and interment will be made in the Royal Oak Burial Park.

4 CARD OF THANKS

The family of the late Mr. Robert Stewart desire to express their sincere thanks to the expressions of kindly sympathy and many floral tributes paid to the memory of their father, also to all those who showed him kindness in his long and painful sickness.

Shadow the Weasel Gets Lost

By THORNTON W. BURGESS

As the Green Meadows had heard how Peter Rabbit had frightened Reddy Fox with an old straw hat, and everywhere that Reddy went someone was sure to shout after him,

Reddy Fox is fine to see
He's as brave as brave can be
You'll be proud if you see
Then he don't know where he's at

Then Reddy would use his temper and chase his footprints. Most of all he wanted to catch Peter Rabbit. He sat in wait for Peter in dense cover and behind bushes and trees, but somehow Peter seemed always to know that Reddy was there.

In the Old Briar Patch Peter was safe. Reddy had tried to follow him there, but he had found that it was of no use at all. Peter's paths were so narrow and the branches were so close together and so tangled that he had to give it up. Reddy was thinking of this the day after the [illegible] in the Old Briar Patch and [illegible] of a sudden he thought of Shadow the Weasel. Helps Check Colds Quickly

Just as soon as you feel the cold coming on and experience headache, pains in the back or limbs, soreness, through the body, take a Paradol tablet, a good hot drink of hot lemonade or ginger tea and go to bed.

The Paradol affords almost immediate relief from the pains and aches and helps you to ward off trouble. I mean [illegible] of the throat, gargle with two Paradol tablets dissolved in water. Just try Paradol the next time you have a cold and we believe that you will be well pleased. Paradol does not disappoint.

Across the Links to Oak Hill

By — Robert Connell

UNDER a grey March sky and with a pleasant coolness in the air for walking I started out by Shelbourne and Lansdowne for the top of Oak Hill, the rocky height that looks across Cedar Hill valley to Mount Tolmie. Where the open fields first touch Shelbourne on the right I listened by the fence to the music of the chickens, but in the woods themselves I caught no glimpse. A robin or two and an occasional flicker and, of course the inevitable gulls were the only birds I saw in this part of my walk, except a single crow which, having found some morsel of food was chased by a small dog after dropping the booty flew to the top of a telephone pole. I passed on to Grosvenor Road and just after reaching Cedar Hill Road and passing Lang Street I came on the southern of the problems I took to get to Oak Hill. According to the map in the area ahead of me lay points and out in streets and houses but my eyes assured me that a was open country without any insuperable obstacle to a path. That I saw to prospect seemed to be traversed and apparently no fences to be possibly trespassed. It seemed to the Provincial to be simple. [illegible]

That Grocery Store On the Corner

BILL HIGGINS came out of the army in 1919. Militarism looked dead. Few realized it was merely slumbering. But everybody knew that the greatest military machine of all time was smashed. And so 1919 was a time for rejoicing. Men, newly out of uniform, were snatching what fun they could before settling down to their civilian occupations. But Bill had no time for holiday making. North America Delivers the Goods Over Seven Seas in the Struggle to Crush the Axis

FROM THE WIDE WORLD WAR MAP, © 1942 THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

"Look at your map of the world," said President Roosevelt again and again in one of his important fireside talks of the war. He indicated that without maps, but explanations of defensive and offensive strategy, the "turtle versus the eagle" policy would not be followed effectively. That is why this War Book, if kept handy for ready reference purposes, will prove valuable for a clearer understanding of each day's war news.

Shown here then is our world today. Its physical size and outlines remain the same, but its political complexion changes from day to day.

A glance at this map, however, is reassuring. The red takes in most of the world, most of its peoples, most of its resources. Only the concentration of Axis forces makes them strong and difficult to dislodge.

Although spread over a huge area, the United Nations are a unit in mutual help, as the vast supply lines shown here indicate. From Canada and United States, the centre most prolific in exportable munition resources, these lines stretch to Australia up towards Suez, and north and south into Russia.

The white numbers in this world map are those technically non-belligerent but none of them are actually neutral. In sympathy and in the sort of help United States was able to give before it declared war, most of the nations of South America are in the United Nations column; Mexico is an ally, the Vichy dependencies in Africa are divided in sympathy with those against the democracies in temporary control.

Germany Still Holds Strong Central Position

After more than thirty months of war the armies of Germany and Italy, despite setbacks, still enjoy the strongest military position in Europe. They have what few of the Allies possess—the historic advantage of inner lines of defence and supply.

The Axis has utilized Europe's excellent rail network to the fullest, even has replaced much of the wide-gauge Russian trackage. It has also at its disposal the best system of navigable waterways in the world, including the 1,700-mile long Danube, plus a formidable spider web of motor roads. To the latter Germany has added several strategic super highways, twenty-five feet wide, and capable of bearing 70,000 tonnes, travelling forty miles an hour, pass a given point, in an hour's time.

With these tremendous transportation facilities at his command Hitler can move troops on the European chessboard at will. He can pour them into conquered Norway and the northeastern coastal belt to threaten the British Isles, eastward to reinforce his Russian forces, pressed by Winter and a resistant Soviet, or southward to bolster the armies battling for Africa.

The interior supply network likewise leads to the Dardanelles, key to the Mid-East, and a rich prize in the annals of military strategy since the excursions of Xerxes and Alexander the Great. Protected railroads and highways afford access to Southern Greece, jumping-off point for an assault on Suez, and to conquest-hit North, the turnpike to Gibraltar.

The Axis, with the Allies on the defensive, has [illegible] swivered back wards and forwards [illegible] Tripoli, changing hands again in the battle of Libya. [illegible] Russian [illegible] are fighting [illegible] and are [illegible] than Nelson, the "Sea" campaigner.

Chief present obstacles facing Axis strategists are Allied efforts to slow down the flow of strategic supply [illegible] which keeps divisions along the sea coast of Occupied Europe. The Norwegian and Scandinavian [illegible] conquered Balkans, in Norway and even in occupied France.

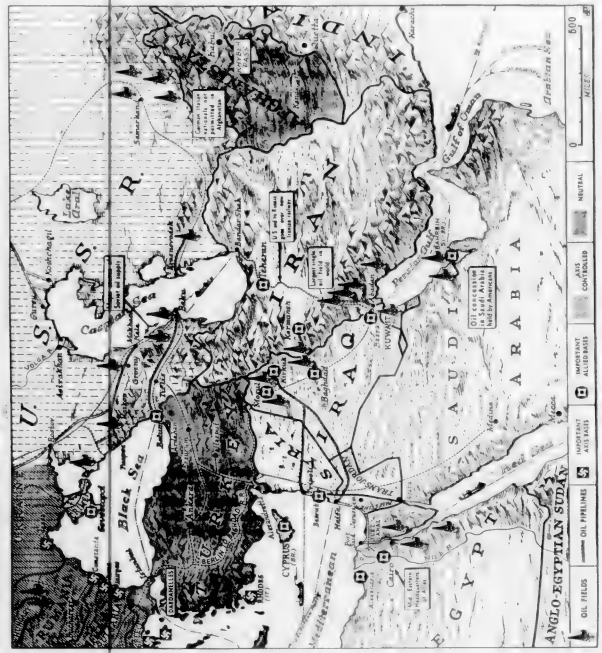
Mid-East: The Strategists' Arabian Nightmare



On a warm day last mid-June Adolf Hitler addressed the German people.

I have today decided to give the fate of the German people and the Reich and of Europe again into the hands of our soldiers.

He spoke as Nazi armies began a total-lightning invasion of Russia, a gigantic campaign intended to acquire, by Winter time, the Caucasus and all of the land west of the Volga. Russia's army, as the German war calendar was to be wiped out.

Nazi was a nation under gravously disappointed. Even Nazi armies rolled to the doors of Leningrad, Moscow and the Caucasus but then they stopped. Winter came and Russia stood the onslaught. In the fall of 1941 that seemed sometimes more like a rout. Hitler announced that his plans had been changed.

Military experts agreed generally that he made one great mistake, that of underestimating Russia. He was believed to have underdrawn great numbers of troops for Winter duty elsewhere, perhaps [illegible]

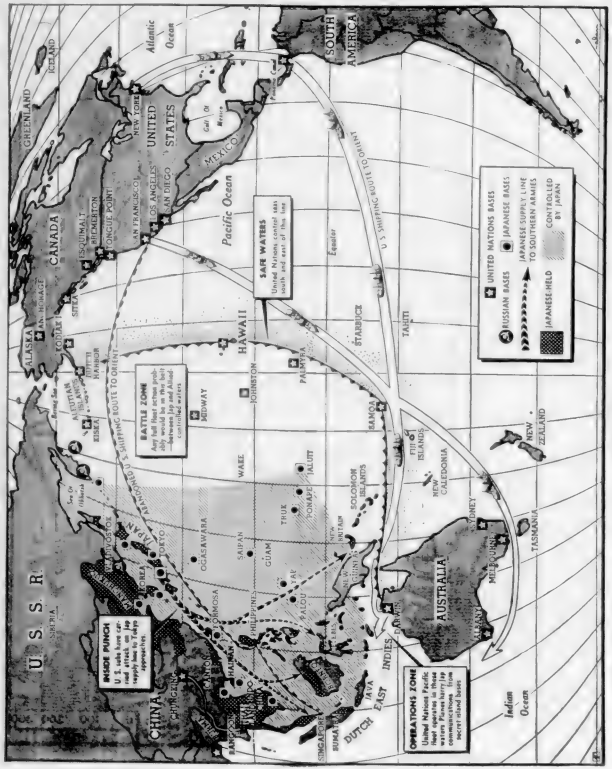
How Admirals See the Widest War Arena



This map shows what President Roosevelt's "global war" strategy means as opposed to the Pacific. America's warships and commerce could remain Inside-in the Safe Waters indicated at the map's right.

Instead in an offensive war—supplemented the U.S. fleet have joined the other United Nations navies to strike their greatest blows in the "Battle Zone" shattering Japanese bases near Vladivostok, the Philippines and in the Straits of Malacca between Borneo and the Celebes.

Their supply ships, forced out of the northern shipping route to the Orient, are rounding Australia to the "Operations Zone."

The darkened and darkening areas on the map illustrate the speed of Japan's blind progress since December 7. Many of the areas in black and gray have been occupied, but none are conquered. Fighting goes on as them from hidden vantage points and by thousands of men driven out or primary bases.

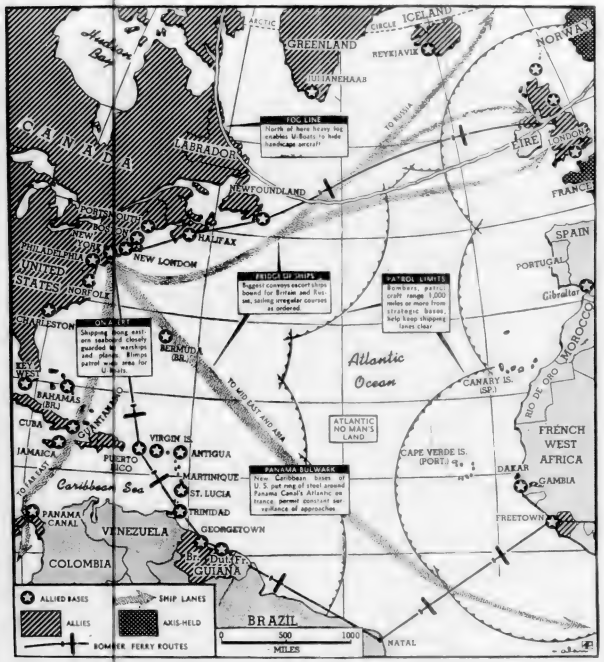
Britain and America Rule the Atlantic



The Atlantic, unlike other war theatres, is a place where Britain and America—not the Axis—hold the trump cards.

Every Nazi vessel venturing from the shattered bases in occupied Norway and France, runs the greatest of risks. It must evade two great fleets—each superior to Germany's, besides escaping detection from the air.

Allied bases completely ring the vast waters—battleground, Britain ruling the eastern portion and America the western. In the narrow belt between—beyond reach of the longest reconnaissance planes—Axis vessels get their only break. Yet even here they must run the risk of heavier encounters with enemy men o' war.

Most Allied merchant vessels cross the Atlantic in convoys, the heaviest armed ships at the four corners and the valuable cargoes—oil and airplanes—in the centre. Ringing the group are destroyers and larger war vessels assisted by long-range patrol craft and bombers.

Germany's naval strength in the Atlantic is such that she can scarcely mount even convoys—only wolf-packs, raiders and smaller U-boat. Because of technical improvements and closer bases U-boats range farther afield than in former wars.

But even occasional spectacular U-boat successes do not win wars. Control of an ocean requires a full-scale fleet and numerous bases. In the Atlantic, only Britain and America have them.

The Bomber ferry routes shown on the map may eventually be the line of United Nations offensive against Hitler. Dakar and Freetown are too near Natal and the Caribbean for the comfort of America at present, or of Hitler in the end.

Present arms and transport lines are shown on map: aircraft, running north to south, from Brazil and Britain, southwards to Africa and through the Panama Canal to the Orient.

Russia Proves Hitler's Biggest Disappointment

Once considered the most formidable army in the world, the Nazis are now worn out. Hitler's losses are the lowest of Hitler's losses in the war.

His offensive on the eve of Winter, which was to be the continent-broken Winter offensive, Stalin's Winter, was crushed, thrown back, broken up, and finally driven from Moscow and thousands from Leningrad. In the meantime the Nazis lost the Caucasian oil fields.

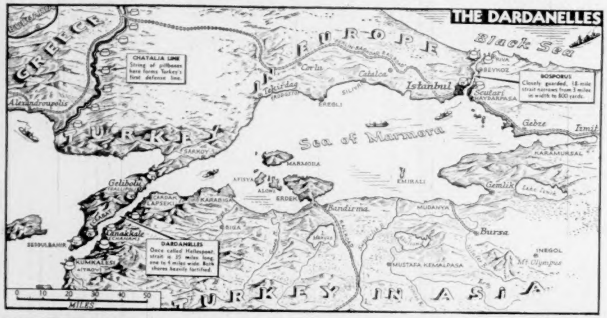
Actually the Russians have pushed back the Nazis. The war is approaching a stalemate. Meanwhile the Nazis are [illegible] Russia, Britain, Africa, Australia, the Pacific and Britain simultaneously. [illegible] on the south.

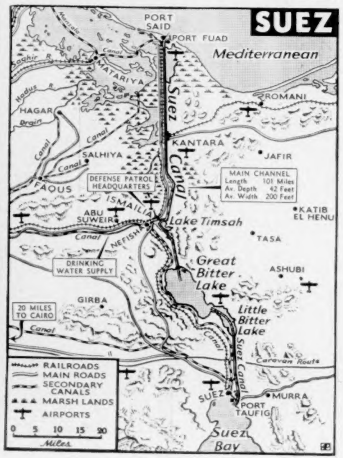
When the Russians opened another Nazi Winter foe was [illegible] Lenin's Leningrad continuing defiance. But [illegible] Hitler's losses in Russia, Hitler's losses in Africa, Hitler's losses in the Pacific were [illegible] Hitler's losses in Russia, Hitler's losses in the north were [illegible] Hitler's losses in Russia and Hitler's losses in the south. [illegible] Hitler's losses in Russia and Hitler's losses in the south.

Only the question of the enormous loss has thus far held up [illegible] of the Nazi Winter, or not yet over in Russia.

The Nazis say Hitler's armies launched his attempts on Russia [illegible] and a half million dead wounded and missing.

The Mediterranean Has Three Iron Doors





These are the doors—The Dardanelles, Gibraltar and Suez. All are closed to Hitler, who must use Italian craft, the seized transports of conquered nations and the small ships he can build or transport overland to fight his battle in Mussolini's Sea.

The DARDANELLES door is kept by Turkey, and its function is to separate the wars in two seas, the Black and Mediterranean. It has agreed with Russia and Britain that the warships or munition supply boats of no belligerent nation can get through, and so far has substantially kept that pact.

Engineers from British Columbia have helped to make GIBRALTAR safer for Britain. They have dug munition bases and reserve quarters deep into the rock. With these reinforcements Gibraltar's chief peril is thought to be a German attempt through Spain, which, up to date has shown no great eagerness to attack "The Rock" on its own.

The SUEZ was the objective of the abortive Libya drives of the Axis armies. Following on relief of its southern entrance by conquest of the Duce's African Empire, United States and Canada have set up a vast arsenal from which supplies are drawn for Libya and may be drawn for an offensive through Iran.

APPRECIATION OF QUALITY

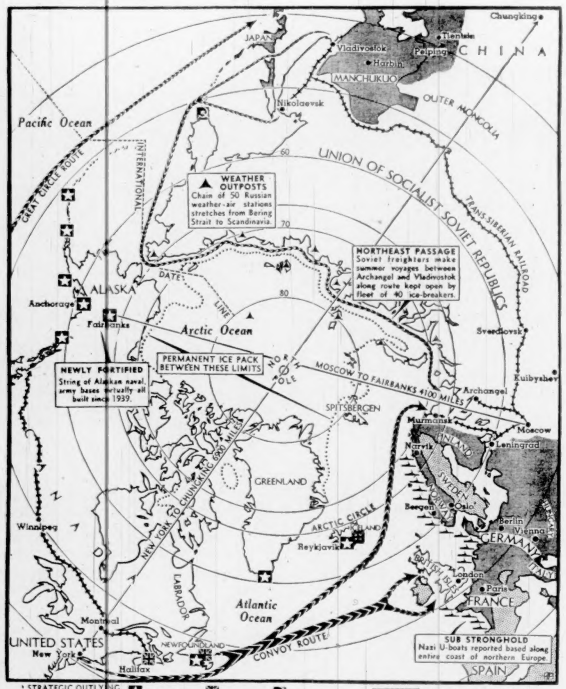
Where Continents at War Come Closest



To British Columbians, this map may be the most important in this war book.

It ties up with the line of air bases through Northern British Columbia, through Alaska and along the Aleutian Islands. And it ties up, too, with the Alaska highway now being rushed as an auxiliary artery for these air bases, and possibly for heavier traffic than planes can carry.

The map shows how close the Far East of Asia is to the Far West of America. It should be studied in relation to the double map in the two middle pages of this book, and to the first keymap on Page 2.

The drop down from Alaska to Japan is not great for the huge "Flying Fortress" bombers now building in United States, and it will be shorter still for the successors of these bombers being planned. They will be able to make return flights that now seem impossible, or at least unfeasible, for the smaller aircraft presently in the fighting areas.

While Canada, United States and Russia are developing the air route by way of Alaska, supply routes are already carrying assistance to Russia on a line even further north. Past the 70-degree mark, ships both from Britain and this continent are going in a constant stream over the top of Finland to Murmansk and Archangel down into Russia.

For a time, before United States officially entered the war and multiplied her assistance, Britain carried the heaviest load of this help, and actually left herself in a dangerous defence position should Hitler have had time to invade her then. Since, of course, the situation has been rectified.

Apart from the war, the map indicates probable new trends of commerce, by air and water, when peace comes.

ALASKA, HAWAII and PANAMA, unobtrusive names in the geography books of an earlier generation, need be identified today in very few schoolrooms. The safety of America's western shore depends in large measure on these Pacific bulwarks; likewise does the strategy that some day will carry the war to Japan ..... PAGE 2

GIBRALTAR, SUEZ and the DARDANELLES are the Mediterranean's three iron doors, each of them closed to the Axis. Britain holds the first two, counts on them in maintaining her long supply line to the Mid-East and Asia. Turkey guards the Dardanelles, gate to the Black Sea, and can decide what vessels shall pass ..... PAGE 4

RUSSIA, in the Nazi war calendar, should have been crushed and helpless by the early months of 1942. Instead, her two key cities remained uncaptured and Adolf Hitler's legions fought many miles from their contemplated Winter position on the Volga. To the long list of German victories, Russia added a big disappointment ..... PAGE 5

THE PACIFIC, with 64,000,000 square miles of open water, comprises a battleground many times greater than any other. Its distances stagger the imagination; its tiny islands assume importance all out of proportion to size. The United Nations must control the Pacific to whip Japan and, in the midst of adversity, are laying careful plans to do it ..... PAGE 6

AUSTRALIA and INDIA are considered "next" on Japan's list. In each case it faces a different proposition than any it has tackled yet. In Australia, size is the greatest defence—that and a people made fiercer than ever in battle by the losses of their soldiery elsewhere. In India size also counts, but so does lengthening Japanese supply lines and a vast population inimical to the Japanese ..... PAGE 8

THE WORLD, with 90 per cent of its population at war, feels the shock of battle in nearly every corner. The Axis nations have chosen the main theatres, enjoy the advantages of interior supply lines. To help crush them, Canada and United States are sending munitions and machines over feeder routes spanning the seven seas. The United States also has sent men ..... PAGES 10 and 11

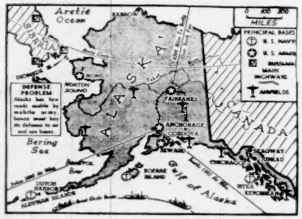
EUROPE, THE MEDITERRANEAN and NORTH AFRICA, cradles of war, all lie in the sphere Nazi Germany hopes to rule. In 30 months of conflict she has added to the great advantages accorded her by geography, now stands in position to strike back at Russia, across the Mid-East, west at Great Britain, and into strategic Africa ..... PAGE 12

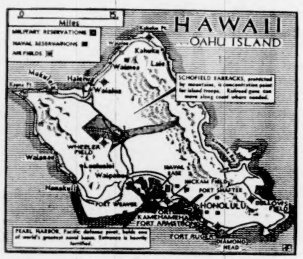
THE MID-EAST is a vast region of desert and mountains, caught in the war for two reasons—position and petroleum. Held by a great Allied force, it buttresses the Nile valley, India and Russia's back door besides producing enough oil to keep threatening Axis armies, poised in the nearby Balkans, rolling along for years and years ..... PAGE 14

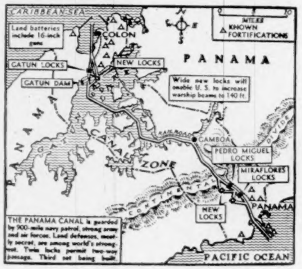
THE EAST INDIES sprawl over an area as big as Greenland and richer beyond comparison. They comprise a jewelled battleground where the stake was 94 per cent of the world's rubber, 75 per cent of its tin, and 3 per cent of its oil. But although the Allies have lost these, Japan has not gained them. A "scorched earth" policy has wrecked millions upon millions of dollars worth of industries and burned crops to prevent them falling into the hands of the invaders ..... PAGE 15

THE ATLANTIC is the largest world area in which the United Nations have control over the Axis. Despite Hitler's boasts that his U-boats have smashed most of the British Navy and destroyed the convoy system, supplies still cross the ocean with a loss ranging from one-half of 1 per cent to 5 per cent. The proportion of loss depends on the U-boat waves. When they first start out, the loss rate is high till British, Free French and now American warships hunt them down. Recently there have been mounting losses off the United States Atlantic Coast ..... PAGE 16

Three Keys to Pacific







THE ARCTIC FRONTIER, mysterious and white-shrouded, finds the war at its doorstep for three reasons: It offers bases of the greatest strategic importance touching it are shipping lanes vital to the Allies; across it run shortcuts between Eurasia and North America, already used by Russia and perhaps by others .....
